Deaths From Heat in the Great Cities Reach Appalling Figures.

RELIEF EXPERIENCED LATE IN AFTERNOON

Mortality Among the Infants Especially Frghtful—Horses in Great Numbers Died in Streets. Thunder Showers Promised for Today.

New York, July 19.—While the record of deaths and prostrations greatly exceeded that of yesterday, there was a distinct diminution today in the temperature prevailing throughout the eastern section of the country. Although the midday heat was everywhere terrific, it was broken by scattered thunderstorms, many of a very violent character and towards evening the temperature fell rapidly until normal summer conditions were reached.

In New York the highest temperature recorded was 95, one degree lower than that of yesterday.

Philadelphia reported a slightly higher maximum range and in other cities the highest point of yesterday was not touched, while everywhere a sharp fall was noticed beginning early in the afternoon.

As usual, the maximum official temperatures were exceeded by those prevailing in the crowded streets where the actual temperature frequently exceeded 160 degrees.

Appalling Total of 75.

The cumulative effect of the torridity of these days was painfully evident in the enormous increase of the number of deaths in New York. While the death roll of yesterday was only twenty-six that of taday reached the appalling total of seventy-five, being nearly half of those prostrated. This was almost entirely due to the collapse of young children and aged persons, whose exhausted vitality was unequal to the strain of further suffering.

After a night of sweltering heat spent by thousands in the streets, in the public parks, on piers along the river front and in every vacant place that promised a breath of air, the conditions that confronted the people of New York this morning were terrifying. The sun rose in a cloudless sky and hour after nouh the heat grew more and more intense. noon the hospitals were crowded with noon the hospitals were crowded with suffering persons. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon came the long prayed for relief when a terrific thunderstorm and a deluge of rain burst over Brooklyn and the lower part of Manhattan and sections of New Jersey.

Cool Breeze at Last.

In Brooklyn two men were struck by lightning and seriously hurt, and in Jersey City one man was killed. While the storm lasted only a few minutes, and left the upper port of the city untouched, the relief was almost instantaneous, and from then on the mercury fell steadily and a cool breeze springing up after sundown gave assurance of a comfortable night.

Even the seashore resorts in the vicinity of New York did not escape the heat, and many prostrations occurred among the thousands that flocked to Coney Island and other beaches.

Several deaths reported were those of persons who had fallen, while asleep, from fire escapes, where they were endeavoring to escape the stifling atmosphere of crowded tenements. With 150 bodies in the cold-storage room at the city morgue, the refrigerating system was found to be out of order today, and it was necessary to resort to the use of tons of ice, in which the bodies were packed, and fifty bodies were hurriedly shipped to the potter's field.

Among the results of the heat was the sudden closing of the Herald Square theater, where "The Rollicking Girl" was being performed.

Motormen in Shirt Sleeves.

For the first time, the New York City Railway Company issued an order permitting all motormen and conductors to remove their coats while on duty during the heated term. Almost all the men availed themselves of the privilege.

In order to save all who might fall into the hands of the police after court hours the torment of a night in the station house cells, the police magistrates made arrangements to accept bail for prisoners at any hour during the night during the hot spell.

The suffering among animals during the day was intense, hundreds of horses, many of which died, being prostrated. An extraordinary mortality among dogs and cats, of which hundreds of bodies were picked up in the streets and reported to the police.

Six deaths due to heat and thirty prostrations were reported in Connecticut.

In Boston, one death due to heat was reported.

Hot Wave Breaks Today.

Washington, July 19.—A heavy thunder and rain storm passed over the city at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon, bringing welcome relief from the oppressive heat. In a few moments the temperature dropped 22 degrees, and tonight the conditions are exceedingly comfortable. The highest temperature today was 92, 3 degrees less than yesterday. Showers

SANFORD SEES WRIGHT AND SHOOTS HIM DEAD

V. T. SANFORD,
Of Rome, Ga., Former Tax Collector of Floyd County, Who Killed George Wright in the Streets of Rome Yesterday.

Ex-Tax Collector of Floyd Kills Southern Ticket Agent at Rome.

SANFORD SAYS WRIGHT HAD RUINED HIS FAMILY

Sanford Surrendered and Has Been Indicted—Various Rumors Are Current in Rome Regarding Tragedy—Shooting Done on the Street.

Rome, Ga., July 19.—(Special.)—The city ticket agent for the Southern, George Wright, was shot and instantly killed about 10 o'clock this morning by former Tax Collector Vincent T. Sanford.

The shooting occurred in front of the residence of Mrs. Ed West, on Second avenue, the weapon used being a double-barreled shotgun loaded with buckshot. Two shots were fired into Mr. Wright's left breast, his death following immediately.

Very little is known as to the causes leading up to the trouble, but Sanford remarked to Officer Copeland as he surrendered himself:

"He has ruined my home, and I have killed him. I would do the same thing again."

This morning about 9:30 o'clock Wright announced his intention of going to Rockmart to straighten out some matters in the ticket office at that point. He asked Captain John Seay, who works in the same office with him, to let him have a little money until he returned, saying that he would go over to the cement works near Rockmart and attend to some business for Captain Seay before he left the village. Captain Seay handed him a five-dollar bill and bade him goodby. Wright went out the front door of the city ticket office and walked on down Second avenue toward the East Rome passenger depot.

Just before Wright reached East Fourth street, according to the testimony of Jessie Wood, Mrs. C. Rowell's cook, Sanford jumped over the fence in front of the vacant lot between Mrs. Rowell's and B. T. Haynes' lot, where he had been, apparently, hiding behind the high weeds. He ran to the middle of the street and called to Wright, but the latter did not respond, although he quickened his pace considerably. Thereupon Sanford ran after him and, just before overtaking him, Wright wheeled and made a motion toward his hip pocket as though to draw a pistol. Sanford threw his gun to his shoulder, said a few words and fired twice in rapid succession. Wright fell to the sidewalk and expired immediately.

Bad Blood Between Them.

There has been bad blood, it seems, between Sanford and Wright for some time. Recently, at the Isle of Palms, where they both went with the firemen, they had an altercation, and, it is alleged, that it was necessary to confine Wright in one of the rooms of the hotel in order to prevent a fight at that resort. It seems that the trouble there was concerning the transportation which Wright, in his railroad capacity, is said to have arranged.

Sanford is said to have written a letter to Charles Porter, of this city, in which he is said to have announced that he and his wife had parted, and that he was going to demonstrate to this community that he was a man, and knew how to protect his honor. Mr. Porter stated to several that he had received such a letter.

As to the details of the trouble between Sanford and his wife, the press representatives are not informed other than as above stated.

The tragedy has thrown the entire city into a frenzy of excitement and groups of citizens stood around all day discussing the unfortunate affair.

Sanford Will Not Talk.

Sanford was asked to make a statement for the press, but declined. He was in consultation with his lawyers all this afternoon and would say nothing for publication.

The witnesses to the tragedy seem to have been John Ashley Jones, Henry Thompson, Jessie Wood and one other party, whose identity has not yet been ascertained.

Just what Sanford meant by his remark concerning Wright's destruction of the happiness of his home is not absolutely clear. Some citizens construe it to mean that Wright had been unduly intimate with Sanford's wife and others construe it to mean that Wright had, by his con-

MODERN GRAFT AND GRAFTERS ARE ROASTED

Justice Brewer Delivers Notable Address to Life Insurance Agents.

JUSTICE BREWER TALKS OF THE COTTON SCANDAL

He Also Refers to the Equitable. "Public Office a Public Trust," He Quotes Approvingly. High Praise Is Given Roosevelt.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 19.—Justice David J. Brewer, of the supreme court of the United States, delivered an address before a large assemblage of life insurance agents in the Masonic building in this city toinght. He devoted most of his talk to modern graft, and praised President Roosevelt in his efforts to make public affairs pure and honest.

"This has been a year which may be characterized as one of the great insurance upheaval," said Justice Brewer. "The press has been full of startling allegations in respect to the manner in which some insurance business has been conducted. The result has been prejudicial to the interest of a certain company, and also to the interests and business of others.

Eye Single to Trust.

"There is a prayer of this kind out of the 'Help us, Oh Lord' to do all things with an eye single to Thy glory. Every one charged with a trust should have an eye single to that trust. The moment private pecuunlary gain is sought through the advantage of that trust, some one is guilty of grafting. For instance, trust funds are the funds of this insurance company, and this and that bank and this and that trust company. We will take these trust funds, put our assets in their place and let the insurance company carry them until we can sell them with a profit. The company takes a risk of carrying them until such time as they can sell the assets, the insurance company may be able to pay its interests in full as it had been doing heretofore, but the men who have done this have not fulfilled their trust with an eye single to the company's benefit. They have sought to make these funds inure to their private gain and cast upon the company the risk, great or small, of that speculation.

Ryan and Equitable.

"Such temptations as that are insidious ones which attend the large accumulation of capital. Why, do you suppose for a moment that Mr. Ryan paid two and a half millions for property which

BIG REDUCTION MADE IN RATES ON STOVES

Commission's New Circular Will Come as a Great Surprise.

REDUCES THE RATES FROM ALL DISTRIBUTING POINTS

Circular Seeks To Satisfy Jobbers as Well as Manufacturers — May End Present Litigation. Railroads Are Yet To Be Heard From.

A cut of about 35 per cent under the prevailing freight rates on stoves and hollow ware from the large distributing centers of the state as well as from points where stoves are manufactured to about seventy common points in Georgia is the effect of circular 309 which was issued yesterday by the railroad commission.

This circular will come as somewhat of a surprise to the railroads as well as to the shippers, though the fact that it would be forthcoming was intimated in a recent statement from Railroad Commissioner Joseph M. Brown, published in The Constitution.

Mr. Brown stated that the commission had under consideration the matter of reducing the stove rates from all the large distributing centers in Georgia as well as from those points where stoves are manufactured, with a view to eliminating any protest that might come from the jobbers, as was the case in Savannah when the circular reducing the stove rates from Atlanta was issued. That circular led to an injunction suit, and the present circular has been issued with a view to avoiding any litigation, at least so far as any of the shippers of the state are concerned.

Railroads May Fight It.

What the railroads will do regarding it remains to be seen. A similar circular issued some time ago was warmly opposed by the roads, and lawsuits were threatened. It was then that the commission changed its plans and issued circulars making reductions from particular points. This plan brought on a lawsuit from the Savannah shippers. Now the commission has sought to satisfy all the shippers of the state, and at the same time reduce the probability of successful litigation on the part of the railroads.

Circular 309 makes a rate on stoves from the distributing cities and manufacturing points to the common points named, in less than car-load lots of sixth class plus 1 cent for distances less than 100 miles and sixth class less 1 cent for distances over 100 miles; and on car-load lots 75 per cent of sixth class plus 1 cent for distances under 100 miles and 75 per cent of sixth class less 1 cent for distances over 100 miles. The reduction, it is said, will amount to about 35 per cent below the present rates.

The Circular in Full.

The circular in full follows:

CIRCULAR 309.

RATES ON STOVES, STOVE PLATES, STOVE FURNITURE, AND HOLLOWWARE, INCLUDING THE NECESSARY PIPE.

Effective with this Circular rates on Stoves, Stove Plates, Stove Furniture, and Hollowware, including the Necessary Pipe, between the points named below, shall be made upon the following basis:

On less than carload shipments for distances less than 100 miles, use 6th class, plus one cent; for distances in excess of 100 miles, use 6th class, less one cent.

On carload shipments for distances less than 100 miles, use seventy-five per cent of 6th class, plus one cent; for distances in excess of 100 miles, use seventy-five per cent of 6th class, less one cent.

CHINESE BEGIN YANKEE BOYCOTT

Ban Against American Goods Put in Force.

Every Effort Made To Allay the Agitation, but It Seems That the Chinese Merchants Could Not Be Appeased.

Washington, July 19.—A cablegram received by the state department from Shanghai says that the boycott against Americans goods commenced today. Every effort was made to allay the agitation, which it is stated is a part of the retaliation of the Chinese against the exclusion laws of the United States.

The state department has been informed by its consuls that the Chinese boycott against American goods, which was instituted today was organized by the trade guilds in five ports, Shanghai, Canton, Tientsin, Hankow and Niuchwang. It is believed the boycott will not be successful or do any particular injury to American goods except in the cities of Canton and Shanghai, where the guilds are stronger than elsewhere. There is no official action which the United States government can take as long as it remains a simple boycott or refusal to purchase American goods, but it is thought the boycott will be discouraged by the Chinese government as far as possible.

BOY LYNCHED AS HE COWERS IN PRISON CELL

Mob Batters Down Doors of Jail in Texas Town to Get Negro.

ASSAULT ON BABY GIRL CAUSED THE LYNCHING

Members of Mob, Unable To Break Into Cell, Thrust Guns Through Bars and Shot Negro to the Death.

New Braunfels, Tex., July 20.—1 a. m.—A mob tonight battered down the doors of the county jail and lynched Sam Green, a 16-year-old negro boy, who attempted a criminal assault at this place Tuesday night on the 4-year-old daughter of William Barbach, a German farmer who lives on the outskirts of the town.

The mob could not break into the cell where the prisoner was kept, so the leaders thrust their guns through the opening of the steel walls and fired three shots. The negro sank to the floor dead, and the mob quietly dispersed.

The negro protested his innocence to the mob, but during the day had confessed his guilt to the sheriff. He had been employed by Garbach to work on the farm, and went out to drive home some cattle, the little child following. It was while on this errand that the negro attempted the crime.

New Braunsfels is a little German town 30 miles from San Antonio, in which the negroes even speak German, and which has a state reputation as a law-abiding community.

It is also noted for the fact that during his trip through Texas President Roosevelt made a brief speech in German to the inhabitants, commending them on their reputation as law-abiding citizens.

STORM HITS VERMONT TOWN.

It Is Estimated That Fairmount Was Damaged $75,000.

Fairmount, W. Va., July 19.—The damage done by the storm which struck this city at 1 o'clock today is estimated at $75,000. Two deaths are reported from aremote part of the county, but on account of the crippled condition of the telephone and telegraph wires it is impossibl eto get the details or names of the dead.

The damage done to the standing crops, corn, wheat and hay, is figured at $60,000. The wind with a velocity of 60 miles an hour cut it down like grass

Case Against Talmage.

Portales, Mexico, July 19.—The case against Benjamin H. Talmage, in which he was charged with subornation of perjury in connection with alleged fraudulent land entries in New Mexico, was dismissed today at the request of Assistant United States Attorney E. S. Wedler. Three of the charges against Talmage have been withdrawn and he is now being tried on a fourth charge.

BOMB BLOWS RUSS OFFICIAL OFF HIS FEET

GOVERNOR IS THROWN TO GROUND BY BOMB

And Badly Injured, but It Is Thought He Will Recover. Attempt Also Made To Kill Procurator of Holy Synod.

Helsinfors, Finland, July 19.—Late this afternoon, two hours after Karl Leonard Hohenthal had been sentenced to imprisonment for life at hard labor for the assassination of Procurator General Soisalon Soininen on February 6, last, an attempt was made to assassinate Vice Governor Deutrich as he was leaving the senate.

The vice governor had walked across the square when suddenly as he neared the police master's office a man threw a bomb from a distance of 50 paces. The bomb fell short, but the vice governor was blown off his feet by the terrific force of the explosion which shattered the windows in the neighboring houses for a distance of hundreds of yards.

Vice Governor Deutrich was hastily assisted to the police station. He was burned and otherwise injured about the legs, and bled profusely, but his wounds are declared not to be fatal.

The bomb thrower was pursued by naval cadets, but escaped.

ATTEMPT MADE ON LIFE OF HEAD OF RUSS CHURCH

St. Petersburg, July 19.—A circumstantial report of an attempt on the life of Constantine Petrovitch Pobiedonostseff, chief procurator of the holy synood, is current in St. Petersburg tonight, but there is no confirmation of it. The authorities and even the police at the Tsarskoe-Selo railway station here, where the attempt is reported to have been made, disclaim all knowledge of any such happening.

According to the report, as M. Pobiedonostseff stepped from one of the coaches o fthe train from Tsarskoe-Selo, where he is residing during the summer, to the platform, a man about 28 years of age rushed up with a revolver in his hand, but he was seized by a quick-witted passenger before he could shoot and was turned over to the police.

JAPAN WATCHES CZAR NICHOLAS

Opinion Prevails That Czar Does Not Really Want Peace, but Is Playing for Time—Witte Leaves on Peace Mission.

Tokio, July 19.—It is believed that Emperor Nicholas recently sent an encouraging message to General Linevitch promising him men, provisions and other necessaries for attaining an ultimate victory. It is also reported that the Russian emperor recently ordered the mobilization of four army corps. This fact, taken in connection with the reported limitation of M. Witte's power as chief peace plenipotentiary, is deemed to be a sign that Russia is not sincere in her expressed desire for the conclusion of peace.

Heavy seas are still raging off the coast of the Island of Sakhalin, and further reports of the Japanese operations there are not expected in the near future.

Witte Leaves on Mission.

St. Petersburg, July 19.—M. Witte's departure for Paris today was a very democratic affair, nevertheless was the occasion for a remarkable demonstration in his honor. The compartment occupied by Russia's chief plenipotentiary was filled with flowers and the station was crowded with friends, bidding him farewell and good luck in the great mission before him. The whole affair was a testimonial of the strength of M. Witte's following. Among those present were all the prominent officials who had seen service under the former minister of finance. The secretary of the Chinese legation and the Koean minister were both in attendance.

Mme. Witte accompanied her husband.

Korea and Peace Negotiations.

Seoul, Korea, July 19.—Against the advice of members of the foreign legations here, Korea has decided to send two representatives to Washington to attempt to secure a hearing before the peace plenipotentiaries. Both of the men were formerly students in America. They are young, with public standing, and bear no credentials. The emperor's private purse supplies them with 10,000 yen to "inaugurate a newspaper campaign to interest Americans in Korea's plight."

Japanese Minister Hayashi has protested, and suggested a personal consultation before the departure of the Koreans, which, it is asserted, they have tried to avoid.

The scheme is considered here by the Japanese as a useless expense, and not as a serious attempt to interest the world.

TOBIN UNDER ARREST AGAIN

Charged With Getting Property Under False Pretenses.

Augusta, Ga., July 19.—(Special.)—P. Brooks Tobin, secretary and manager of the Augusta Cotton Factorage Company, which went into the hands of a receiver several days ago, has been again arrested. This time the warrant was sworn out in South Carolina, and alleges getting property under false pretenses.

The arrest was made in Aiken county, just beyond Augusta, while Mr. Tobin was on the trolley car, homeward bound. He was taken to Aiken in custody of a deputy sheriff and released under a bond for $800.

A statement by the expert accountant appointed to examine the books of the factorage company is expected Thursday.

MORTUARY.

Miss Ann Killen, Perry, Ga.

Perry, Ga., July 19.—(Special.)—Mrs. Ann Killen, aged 81 years, died here today. She was one of Perry's oldest citizens.

Mrs. J. B. Cole, Marysville, Ohio.

Marysville, Ohio, July 19.—Mrs. J. B. Cole, wife of Captain Cole and sister in law of Vice President Charles W. Fairbanks, is dead from heart trouble and dropsy. She was 52 years of age.

Earl Cowper, London.

London, July 19.—Francis Thomas De Grey Cowper, seventh Earl Cowper, who was lord lieutenant of Ireland from 1880 to 1882, is dead. There being no heir, the earldom is now extinct. Earl Cowper was born in 1834.

Little Girl Bitten.

Columbus, Ga., July 19.—(Special.)—Nina, the little 7-year-old girl of Ed Bray, was attacked on the sidewalk yesterday afternoon by a large dog, which bit her in four places. It is feared the dog was mad, and the child may be carried to the Pasteur institute in Atlanta. The dog has since bitten several dogs, and it is said bit another child.

Death of a Child.

Macon, Ga., July 19.—(Special.)—David Monteville, the 1-year-old son of Rev. and Mrs. D. M. Pressley, died at the family residence on Second street here this morning after a short illness. The funeral will occur tomorrow afternoon and the body will be interred in Riverside cemetery.

It would be utterly impossible to imagine anything more distressing than La Grippe pains. They are simply indescribable and seem to be composed of all the misery sensations known.

Yet they can be relieved, and in a very short time, by taking

WRITE DOWN ALL RUSSIA, THEY CRIED IN DEFIANCE

Czar's Chief oi Police Attempts to Break Up the Zemstvo Congress.

NAMES OF DELEGATES WRITTEN ON BLACK LIST

But Delegates Were Defiant and Cried to Police Chief That He Would Have To "Write Down the Whole of Russia" on His List.

Moscow, July 19.—The zemstvo congress opened at midday today in the residence of Prince Dolgorukoff.

The congress was attended by 225 delegates. Count Heyden, leader of the deputation representing the congress recently received by the emperor, presided.

M. Golovine, president of the organizing committee, had barely started a statement dealing with the obstacles placed in the way of the congress, announcing that Governor General Kozloff had promised that there would be no recourse to extreme measures, when the chief of police with numerous commissaries and officials entered the room. The chief announced that the prefect had prohibited the meeting of the congress, and ordered the seizure of the documents.

Count Heyden protested against the proceedings, but the chief of police began taking the names of the delegates. Then cries were raised of "Write down the whole of Russia." Many persons present who were not delegates to the congress requested that their names also be taken. The police then departed in order to draw up summons, and the meeting was resumed.

The scheme of a national assembly on the basis outlined by the committee presided over by M. Bouligan, minister of the interior, was minutely and critically discussed and denounced as totally inadequate to remove Russia's internal grievances, because, including a property qualification and an electoral system by classes, it prevented the assembly from thoroughly interpreting the will of the nation, while the exclusion of numerous categories of citizens from the franchise was a contradiction of the principles of equity and reasonable state policy.

At the same time it was recognized that the proposed assembly would comprise a considerable portion of the social forces of the empire and serve as the center of a social nation, which would tend to secure political liberty and regular national representation. Therefore it was considered desirable that in the event of the carrying out of the Bouligan or a similar project, the delegates of the zemstvos and municipalities should participate in the assembly to the greatest possible extent with the object of forming a compact group, and to obtain a guarantee of individual and political liberties.

Numerous resolutions embodying the foregoing criticisms were adopted unanimously, as were also resolution complaining of excessive administrative and police control of elections, and insisting that publicity be given to the proceedings of the proposed assembly, which should be in direct relation with the emperor without interference from the council of the empire.

Military Plot Against Czar.

London, July 20.—The Moscow correspondent of The Times says that one of the topics of conversation during the proceedings of the zemstvo congress was the alleged discovery of a military plot against Emperor Nicholas.

FINEST MONKEY TRAINER FALLS VICTIM TO THE HEAT

New York, July 19.—Jacob Cook, for thirty years an attendant in Central park, whose death from heat prostration has just occurred, was one of the best trainers of monkeys in the world. He entered the park service as a laborer, but it was not lon; before he became attached to the menagerie and finally became identified exclusively with the monkey house. He showed the greatest affection for his pets there and nursed many of them through long illness. The trainer's great triumphs were achieved in the education of "Mister Cowley" and "Mrs. Kitty Crowley," chimpanzees which were world-renowned attractions and did innumerable tricks. Cook was noted among other things for his peculiar idea of an enjoyable vacation. It was to visit graveyards and copy inscriptions from the tombstones. Year after year, accompanied by his wife, he made pilgrimages to the cemeteries not only of New York and suburbs but far into New England and invariably returned with an interesting collection of epitaphs are predicted by the weather bureau tonight for the upper Ohio valley, the middle Atlantic states and New England, and local showers are probable in the south Atlantic states. The hot wave in New England and the middle Atlantic states, it is announced, will be temporarily broken Thursday, and then moderate temperatures are scheduled by the weather prophet for several days. High temperatures continue in the south portion of the middle Atlantic states and in the states in the Mississippi valley. Today's showers, it is explained by the weather forecaster, were caused by the rapid development of an area of low pressure that stretched over the mouth of the St. Lawrence and across New England.

Fatalities Due to Heat and Lightning

The latter's son, Clarence, and Clara Douglas, aged 11, are in a critical condition as the result of an electric shock. Dennis Thoan, of Wabash, and J. M. Lippy, of LaPorte, and Edward Cleays, of South Bend, died today from the effects of sunstroke.

Beginning tonight, the board of public safety has ordered Edgewater and Gordon parks thrown open to as many people as desire to sleep there. This order will continue during the continuance of the heated spell. It was brought about through the alarming condition existing in many of the congested portions of the city. Extra park policemen together with a large number of the regular force will be detailed to guard the sleepers.

$685,000 LOAN TO EQUITABLE

Bank Examiner is Probing Mysterious Transaction.

Loan Carried on Boks of Mercantile Trust Company in the Names of James W. Alexander and T. D. Jordan, Trustees.

New York, July 19.—A. C. Judson, assistant bank examiner, acting under orders of F. D. Kilburn, superintendent of the state banking department, appeared in the offices of the Mercantile Trust Company, in the Equitable building, and began an examination of the loans carried on the books of that institution. He will continue his searches.

H. C. Deming, president of the Mercantile Trust Company, was seen tonight and said:

"It is true that Mr. Judson, the assistant bank examiner, began an examination of our books today. We devoted the day to going through our loan accounts with him and the examination will probably be concluded tomorrow My understanding is that this is the department's regular examination and if it has any particular relevancy to any special loan I have not been so informed. The new law calls for a semi-annual examination instead of an annual one, as heretofore."

"Has it been customary for the bank examiner to make these regular examinations at this time of the year?" Mr. Deming was asked.

"No," he replied, "they have been somewhat generally later."

The loan referred to is said to be one for $685,000 to the Equitable Society, carried on the books of the trust company in the names of James W. Alexander and T. D. Jordan, trustees. The fact of a loan came out in the testimoney of Dr. Deming before Superintendent Hendricks, in the Equitable investigation.

Investigation into this mysterious loan, it is said, is also being conducted by the insurance as well as the banking departments. Mr. Morton, it was stated tonight in well informed circles, requested information from Mr. Jordan regarding this loan, which was refused. Mr. Jordan declined to discuss his dismissal tonight.

under no legal circumstances could pay him more than 3 or 4 per cent interest with the idea that all he could get would be this interest? There could be such philanthropists, but they are not conected with insurance companies.

"There was never a truer saying than that by Grover Cleveland that a public office is a public trust. There is today so much grafting going on among public officials as to startle us I am not speaking now about the coarser kind of grafting, such as buying votes, paying money, etc., which we all condemn. I have reference to the more insiduous ways that the one holding public office is not carrying on the duties of that office with an eye single to his trust is prostituting in one way or another that office for his own gain or the gain of his friends,"

The Cotton Scandal.

He referred to the scandal in the agricultural department, in the giving out of information on the condition of cotton crops.

"An official may say the government has lost nothing through his action. Put whatever may be the statutes, such a man who betrays his trust is a grafter.

"Take the perisdent of the United States," said Justice Brewer. "Along last winter San Domingo put itself on a financial footing. Suppose the president had acted secretly and advised his friends to buy up San Domingo bonds. Would not that shock the people of the country? Yet the government would lose nothinug, and some would be private gainers. Suppose the United States supreme court justices would give out infromation in advance of certain decisions wouldn't you revolt at such transactions? It would be unworthy—this would be grafting.

Roosevelt and Jackson.

"A month ago today I was in Tennessee. I went to the The Hermitage, where lie the remains of Andrew Jackson, and I thank God today that there was another equally honest president," said the justice. "And it seemed as if I could hear falling from the lips of Theodore Roosevelt the words: 'Public affairs must and shall be pure and honest.' No president can do all the work. No president or congress can do all this. It requires not merely action of officials of the government, but action of every one that the administration of public affairs be kept pure and honest."

GIFT OF $5,000 FOR INFIRMARY

A. K. Hawkes Makes Notable Donation to Tabernacle Work.

A gift of $5,000 toward erecting a permanent building for the Tabernacle infirmary has been made by A. K. Hawkes, the well-known business man. This donation was handed to Dr. L. G. Broughton yesterday.

About a month ago, when Dr. Broughton was endeavoring to raise money with which to pay off the infirmary's indebtedness, Mr. Hawkes gave a subscription of $300, to be applied to the support of a charity bed in memory of his mother, Harriet E. Woodbury Hawkes.

Since that time he has investigated the infirmary's work, and yesterday made an engagement with Dr. Broughton to talk over with him the provisions of the charter and his plans for the future in connection with the institution.

After the conference Mr. Hawkes announced his gift of $5,000, to be used in securing a permanent building for the infirmary.

In speaking of the matter last night Dr. Broughton said:

"It is a most gracious gift. Nobody knows how my heart rejoices tonight. Mr. Hawkes has always been a kind supporter of our institution, but I must confess that this is more than I ever expected him to do. It is another one of those evidences of confidence in the humble institution which I appreciate so much. Nobody will ever know how much I do appreciate such tokens of confidence from our Atlanta business men. We are trying to run a real up-to-date Christian hospital, and it is very encouraging to have encouragement from such men.

"We have already about $4,000 in property, given us by the late Dr. James H. Low and Mrs. Brightwell. We shall soon buy property, and go to work to erect a first-class infirmary building, with the latest modern equipments. We shall doubtless erect a fire-proof, steel frame building. I know our friends in Atlanta and elsewhere are ready to stand by us in such an enterprise. We are trying to furnish the very best equipments possible for people of small means and no means, and to do it all in the name of Christ.

"We do not propose to exclude the rich, but we will give them the very best that can be afforded also."

HE CHEATED LAW BY HANGING SELF

Edward Gottschalk Commits Suicide in Prison Cell.

He Would Have Been Legally Hanged August 8—Gottschalk Had Long Criminal Record, Being Accused of Two Bloody Deeds.

St. Paul, Minn., July 19.—Edward Gottschalk, under sentence to be hanged on August 8, committed suicide this afternoon by hanging.

Gottschalk has had a remarkable criminal record, being accused of two of the bloodiest and most mysterious crimes in local police annals. One day in February last, between 12 and 1, Christian Schindelnecker, a butcher, was murdered in his shop on a prominent business street. The body was literally hacked to pieces with a cleaver. For a time the police were unable to discover the perpetrator of the crime, but suspicion fell upon Gottschalk and a young fellow named Joseph Hartmann. Gottschalk was arrested and strenuously maintained his innocence, declaring that if Hartmann were found he would be able to prove by him that he had nothing to do with the crime.

On the day on which he was held to the grand jury, the body of Hartmann, heavily weighted with iron, was found in the Mississippi river near Fort Snelling. His skull had been crushed in with a pick, used for breaking the ice for fishing. Gottschalk was placed on trial on the charge of murdering Hartmann and when his case came up in court he astonished every man by changing his plea of not guilty, and in open court confessing to the slaughter of Hartmann, claiming that he acted in self defense. He denied having killed Schindeldecker, saying that he watched outside while Hartmann murdered the butcher. Since sentence of death was passed upon him, Gottschalk has made several attempts to either hang himself or break out of jail.

CORA CARTER SWORE SHE SAW M'DONALD

SISTER OF THE VICTIMS PROVED STAR WITNESS

Swore She Saw Tim and Jim McDonald in the Yard Directly After the Killing Occurred—Moore, the Negro, Told Conflicting Stories.

By E. C. Bruffey.

Valdosta, Ga., July 19.—(Special.)—It was with a rush and remarkable energy the Rawlings' murder trial moved today, notwithstanding the intense stifling heat. The negro Moore was brought back to the witness chair when court convened this morning. Moore could not begin where he left off last evening, but had to recite the same story he told yesterday. But the effect upon the jury and the audience this morning was not half as effective as it was on Tuesday evening.

Alf Moore told several conflicting stories about the killing and admitted that he had told several lies in order to save himself. He was positive, however, that Milton, Jessie and Leonard Rawlings were at the Carter home, and that Milton and Jessie did the shooting. He said that he went to the Carter home to help do the killing on the agreement that he be paid $100; but when he got there his nerve failed him, and he could do nothing. He also made the startling statement that the Rawlings boys had told him Carter had $1,500 in the house which they could get if he would go in and kill the rest of the family.

Moore stated that he had told about the crime because after he was arrested he had been told that a lynching party was after him, and he had better tell all he knew.

Attorney Cooper moved that his testimony be stricken, as his confession was not a voluntary one. Solicitor Thomas objected to the motion being granted, on the ground that Moore was not on trial and that only confessions of those directly on trial were inadmissible under such circumstances.

The judge declined to rule out the testimony.

Sensation of the Day.

The sensational feature of the day was the pronounced determination of the defendants' attorneys to transplant the crime of June 13 from the Rawlings family to the McDonalds, kinsmen of Sheriff Passamore, of Lowndes county.

It was shown conclusively by the testimony of Mrs. Carter, mother of the dead children, and by Miss Dora Carter, the eldest daughter, that Tim McDonald, brother in law of the sheriff, and Jim McDonald, a boy of 15 years, were in the Carter yard the night of the killing, and that one of them was armed. It was established that there had been a long-time feud between the Carters and the McDonalds, but when the younger McDonald was put on the stand he denied emphatically that he had been near the Carter home that night.

Threats previous to the killing made by the Rawlings boys and their father were proved by the negro's confession, notwithstanding his practical impeachment was almost fully sustained by witnesses presented by the state.

Saw Him Through Hole in Hearth.

Miss Carter was probably the star witness of the day. She swore pointedly and positively that she looked through a hole in the hearth and encountered Milton Rawlings' face just on the outside of the chimney, trying to look in. She was positive in her recognition of him; she had known him for years, and could not be mistaken. It was Miss Carter, too, who was absolutely sure that she saw the McDonalds that night in the yard, and that one of them had a gun.

Throughout the entire day it was a legal battle between Solicitor Thomas and Attorney Cooper. The greater part of the day was given to the legal disputes, yet the state rested with the end of the day, and in the morning the defense will have the witness chair.

HARTFORD WILL PAY PENALTY

Fire Insurance Company and Anti-Trust Law of Arkansas.

Little Rock, July 19.—The Hartford Fire Insurance Company will pay the state of Arkansas $10,400 penalty for operating in violation of the anti-trust law declared constitutional by the state supreme court. Under the maximum penalty the company would have forfeited $500,000, but a decision was reached to confess judgment at $200 a day from May 23 to the time the opinion of the court was handed down.

Attorney General Rogers, of Arkansas, said this morning that he will prosecute under the new law, "everything that looks like a trust" in the state.

BURTON SMITH'S CLOSE CALL

Came Near Drowing While Bathing at St. Simons Island.

Brunswick, Ga., July 19.—(Special).—Burton Smith, of Atlanta, who is aide de camp of Major Shearer, commanding the Fifth Georgia regiment, now camping on St. Simon, came very near losing his life yesterday afternoon. Mr. Smith, while in bathing, attempted to reach a launch anchored a short distance from the pier and became fouled with the anchor chain and his arm was disabled. Two men standing on the beach saw his predicament and hastened to his rescue in a small boat. He was completely exhausted when they reached him and was unable to climb into the small boat with his injured arm. He clung to the side, however, and was in this way brought to the beach. A physician dressed his arm and he soon regained his strength. Had not the small boat reached him as quick as it did he would have drowned.

THUNDER SHOWERS TODAY.

Atlanta's Weather Moderate Yesterday Compared with Other Cities.

Probable thunder showers is the forecast for Atlanta weather today.

While failing to develop anything sensational in the way of figures yesterday, the weather was hot enough to make the shady side of every proposition the most popular, even though there is generally a sentiment against things "shady." But while it was uncomfortable in Atlanta in the middle of the day, yesterday's weather map showed figures for many of the eastern and seaboard cities, such as meant weather conditions not only uncomfortable, but so serious as to menace the most careful of pedestrians and cause directly and indirectly fatalities from the heat such as is unknown to Atlanta. In the list, New York showed 96. This figure means until suffering in the crowded tenement districts.

According to yesterday's weather map, the weather was generally clear, although showers were reported in the cotton belt. The hot weather in the eastern half continues, no relief having come to ease the suffering of the hot wave.

LOUISVILLE GRAIN RATES.

Investigation by Commerce Commission Comes to Close.

Louisville, July 19.—The grain rate investigation by the interstate commerce commission ended today, the only witness being J. B. McGee, representing the elevator interests of Cairo, Ill. Commissioner Clement announced that the hearing would be taken up later, but the place of meeting was not decided.

In all probability several weeks will elapse before the case comes up again, as all the evidence already taken must be submitted to the five members of the commission. When the body reconvenes arguments will be heard from attorneys representing all parties interested in the 3-cent shrinkage rate through Louisville from the west to the southeast, which was the original source of complaint, and in the matter of alleged duplication and triplication of expense bills.

Louisville shippers maintain that the question of fraudulent manipulation does not affect the justice of the shrunk rate.

Mead's Perfection
Rye Coffee

Rye Coffee, in some European countries, is so universally used that Coffee of any other kind is but little known. It is a noticeable fact that in sections of the world where Rye is freely used, both as a food and drink (non-alcoholic), a very healthy condition exists, and rarely, if ever, are such sections visited with epidemics of any kind.

PERFECTION RYE COFFEE is just what its name implies, "PERFECTION." It is a perfect hygenic product, containing the whole kernel of carefully selected Rye and other Cereals scientifically manufactured and skillfully blended.

It does not contain any chicory or other Coffee seasonings and substitutes, neither is there any chaff or screenings in it. While it has the delicate flavor of Mocha & Java Coffee, it is unlike these Coffees, in that it does not irritate the nerves nor produce biliousness. It positively aids digestion, is easily assimilated by the weakest stomach, and assists nature generally. It is a boon—if there is such a thing to the dyspeptic—and specially recommended for Kidney difficulties.

It is in every sense a pure Health-Food. It looks like coffee, tastes like coffee, smells like coffee, but is not coffee.

Judge Driver on Recent Trouble in Chambers County, Ala.

He Says That No Threats Were Made Against the Deputy Marshal. Story of the Arrest of Heath and Adams and the Charges.

Montgomery, Ala., July 19.—(Special.)—Hon. A. J. Driver, probate judge of Chambers county, was in the city yesterday, having come largely as a result of the troubles incident to the peonage charges of the United States officers against W. O. Heath and James Adams, of his county, who were brought to Opelika yesterday for hearing before Commissioner T. D. Samford, and gave bond for later appearance and trial. The judge went up to the government building and had a long talk with Judge Thomas G. Jones, of the United States court, relating the circumstances to him and the reason why some of the witnesses were under charges of the state courts. He says that there was no attempt to intimidate the officers who went for the accused men; neither were there any efforts to hold witnesses who might have been of use in the trials of the cases against Heath and Adams.

When it came to the knowledge of Judge Driver that Heath and Adams were wanted he sent for them and had them meet him and the marshals of the United States court at Lafayette and made the officers of the law no trouble. So far as the judge could learn there were no threats against Deputy Marshal Gibson by friends of the two men accused, though the officer might have heard that there were. When he asked Gibson who told him that he had better not try to arrest these men, he said he did not have any direct information, but heard it in a general way.

Story of Arrests.

The story of the arrest of some of the witnesses in the case against Heath and Adams is about this way. Last Friday a negro, Tom Hightower, made an assault on Mr. Heath with an ax and ran to the house of a white man near by. There he was joined by others and it came to the ears of Judge Driver that they were harboring Hightower, who had been guilty of a crime. The warrants were then issued and the negro and several white men were arrested. Hightower and Jim Robertson were wanted by the government. When the arrests were made it was not known that either of them were wanted; neither did the judge know that Heath and Adams were sought.

Judge Driver was coming from Lafayette to Opelika and heard that the marshal had said that he could not take Heath and Adams and had wired for a posse which was at Opelika. When he got to the latter place he found the posse, with Marshal Lee J. Bryan in charge. He at once told them that if they wanted Heath and Adams there would be no trouble about it. He then called up the mayor of Lafayette and told him to get a buggy and send out for the two men and have them there at his office when he and the posse got back.

The instructions of Judge Driver were carried out to the letter. When they got back to Lafayette the men were there. They then went on over to Opelika, where they were bound over in the sum of $1,000 each to appear for trial next week.

Heath Prominent.

Mr. Heath is one of the most prominent men in Chambers county. He has a fine farm and runs twenty-five plows. His wealth is held at way up toward $50,000 and he is considered one of the best men of the section. Mr. Adams is not so prominent, but has not been known as a criminal, in any sense, or a man who violates the law.

It seems from what can be learned that there is some sort of feud in the neighborhood and the report is that Heath is being made a victim. Some time ago his barn was burned at a big loss and since then he has been annoyed.

Tom Hightower, the negro who made the assault on Mr. Heath, is the stepfather of the boy who is said to have been held in peonage by Heath and later by Adams. Judge Driver says the boy has never been confined in any prison sense, that he goes to Opelika and West Point when he sees fit and that he is the boss of his own movements.

There is great regret on the part of Judge Driver and other citizens of Chambers county that such charges have been made against the county and he has assured the officers of the United States that at any time they want men from his county and will bring it to his attention he will see that they are secured.

Both Are Prosperous.

Montgomery, Ala., July 19.—(Special.)—State Insurance Commissioner McDavid has returned from Mobile, where he made an examination of the condition of the Factors and Traders' Mutual and the Stonewall insurance companies, two of the strong home companies, for the writing of fire insurance in the state. He found them in good shape and earning big money. Both paid 10 per cent dividends this year and passed enough to the surplus to make the earnings for the year over 18 per cent.

Mr. McDavid is very enthusiastic about the prosperity of these home enterprises and has often made it public that he is in favor of as many of them as possible. They make their money at home, keep not only the principle at home, but all the earnings as well. In other words the money put into home companies will stay at home, a very important thing sometimes.

John Lewis and P. B. Lassiter have been appointed notaries at Birmingham. W. H. Cleere has been named a justice of the peace and notary public at Haleyville.

Convict Board Meets.

Montgomery, Ala., July 19.—(Special.)—The state board of convict inspectors held the regular monthly meeting today with several gentlemen representing supply companies and a number of the contractors being in attendance. Nothing further than routine was taken care of, however.

Among the visitors was both members of the Henderson-Boyd Lumber Company, of Richburg, and Colonel Robert Cunningham, of Birmingham.

The convict inspectors near incidentally that a white convict escaped from the farm of W. D. McCurdy, in Lowndes county, last night, taking away a fine mare worth several hundred dollars. A posse has been after him, but as he is a county man his name is hot known. He had only ten days to serve.

GENTLEMEN:

"Peruna has done me such a world of good in giving me new health and strength that I want to tell you of its value to me. I was rundown and had lost my appetite during the warm days of last summer. I became thin, weak and nervous, and needed a stimulating tonic. I took other medicine, which did not seem to help me, but Peruna built up my system, infused new life, gave renewed energy and restored me to perfect health. I took only six bottles, and shall never be without it."

The symptoms of summer catarrh vary in different cases, but the most common ones are lassitude, played-out, tired-out, rundown, used-up feelings, combined with a more or less heavy, stupid, listless, mental condition.

Peruna meets all these conditions at this season of the year.

Thousands of women suffer from catarrhal nervousness and exhaustion during the summer months. If you feel fagged out, begin at once taking Peruna. It will relieve your catarrhal condition and restore you to health. If you desire special advice, write to Dr. S. B. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

Guest, the Atlanta sub-contractor who was arrested here several nights ago on warrants sworn out by McKenzie & Sons, the contractors for Griffin sewers on various charges of interference with laborers, was tried today before Justice T. R. Mills and bound over on three different warrants.

RESTRICTION OF IMMIGRATION

Five of Alabama's Delegation in Congress Favor Such Laws.

Huntsville, Ala., July 19.—(Special.)—A few weeks ago the chamber of commerce passed a resolution protesting against the admission of the lower classes of immigrants to the United States and memorializing Alabama's delegation in congress to exert their influence in the passage of laws restricting immigration. Five of the members of congress in this state have replied to the memorial, all of them pledging their support to restrictive legislation. Their letters were read last night as follows:

Hon. Oscar Underwood says: "I am heartily in favor of the resolutions you passed. In the congress before the last I succeeded in passing a bill through the house applying an educational test to the immigrants coming into this country that would have cut off about 65 per cent of the immigrants coming from southern Europe and less than 5 per cent of the immigration coming from northern Europe, but I could not get the bill through the United States senate. As you state in your resolutions, I am in favor of all good immigration coming into this country, but I am heartily opposed to the scum of Europe being dumped upon us."

Hon. H. J. Bankhead says: "I realize the need of our country, especially the south, being protected from the importation of this worthless foreign population. I am in favor of any measure that will secure this result."

Hon. Henry D. Clayton says: "It does seem to me that something ought to be done to further curtail the immigration of undesirable people."

Hon. George W. Taylor says: "I have read your resolutions with pleasure and congratulate you on the happy wording adopted. Our people are too few and their responsibilities too great to permit us to deal safely with an unsafe addition to our population. We want immigrants from Great Britain and northern Europe, certainly none further south than France, and we do not want paupers and criminals from any country."

Hon. William Richardson says: "I will gladly give the resolutions a most careful reading and my most earnest consideration."

President Roosevelt referred these resolutions to the department of commerce and labor, and the bureau of immigration thereupon acknowledges their reception and promises careful consideration.

THIS STOCK ADVANCES ☞ 20 PER CENT, THURSDAY, JULY 20!

Right Up Against the Osage Line in the Five Hundred Barrel District of the Indian Territory the Uncle Sam Company Starts Two Drills.

THE UNCLE SAM COMPANY now owns and controls over THIRTY THOUSAND (30,000) acres of oil and gas lands, on which there are five pumping plants and seventy-nine oil and gas wells. The company will soon have five drills working day and night completing additional producers. Some of the undeveloped properties are recognized by old oil men as being the richest and most valuable oil holdings yet discovered. Right up against the Osage line in the Indian Territory, south of Bartlesville, the Uncle Sam refinery has already started to work and will soon have two drills running in addition to those now working near Cherryvale. The property adjoining the Osage line has a probable capacity of ten thousand barrels a day when developed. It behooves every investor to think well before he turns down the stock of the Uncle Sam refinery, which is now offered to you for a few hours longer at one-tenth its par value. Don't wait until the company drills in a five hundred barrel well and then expect to secure the stock at even 50 cents per share.

Last Allotment of stock Was Oversubscribed in Net Sales Over $18.000.

The Uncle Sam company is backed by the people in general and a great many men of influence are among its stockholders. The company is the destined winner of the central west, and the stock will prove to be the greatest investment in America. There are over three thousand stockholders and all are at work. The last allotment of stock was oversubscribed in net values over eighteen thousand dollars. This notice will appear in more than seventy of the leading and most influential journals of the United States. It will be read by over ten million people. The present allotment of stock under the prevailing conditions will be greatly oversubscribed. Would advise you to get busy quick and mail or telegraph your orders immediately after reading this announcement.

Great Refinery Now Completed—Will Re Selling Oil in Five Days

The first great refinery ever built by independent capital in the west is now completed by the Uncle Sam company and will be putting oil on the market in five days. When you invest in this company you secure stock that is easily worth 25 cents per share right now. Refineries and pipe lines and a vast acreage of oil lands and oil wells are valuable. The Cherryvale refinery will have an earning capacity of over six hundred dollars per day under present conditions, and it is already being enlarged. The company will have no trouble to sell its entire output at the present trust prices, but will deliver oil worth a third more than trust oil on account of its purity. The superintendent of the Uncle Sam refinery is from the Pure Oil Company of Pennsylvania. The Uncle Sam company is going to be in the west what the Pure Oil company is in the east. It will manufacture the very finest grades of oils, and with nearly three thousand stockholders scattered all over the central west will have friends to work for the sale of Uncle Sam brands everywhere at prices that will make the stockholders of this company substantial profit on their investments. Better send in $100 now and secure 1,000 shares before the advance. WRITE FOR PRICES ON FUEL AND REFINED OIL AT ONCE.

Has Room for 6,000 Oil Wells

The Uncle Sam company started out on the safe and practical basis of owning and operating its own oil properties. It now has seventy-nine wells and five pumping plants and over thirty thousand acres of oil lands on which is room for over six thousand producing wells, which proves how nearly this company is doing what it contemplated. It has oil territory enough right now to feed its great refinery now completed and the other two proposed refineries and pipe lines for a century. The stock that you can secure now will certainly grow in value as the rapid development of these properties progresses.

Assets Back of the Company.

The Uncle Sam company now has one great refinery completed and in operation. This plant, on a conservative basis, is worth to the stockholders of the company over a QUARTER OF A MILLION DOLLARS. They have miles of lateral pipe lines completed, connecting about three-fourths of the Cherryvale oil fields and are completing additional lines. Have thousands of barrels of oil in storage and are pumping more into storage every hour. We have storage for thousands of barrels, one storage tank alone having capacity for ONE MILLION SIX HUNDRED THOUSAND GALLONS. More storage tanks are being built. These are all the best steel tanks made and will last 100 years. The refinery plant at Cherryvale looms up like a small city and it would do you good to see it. The company has a railroad switch completed into the grounds; also has dwelling houses, a barrel manufactory, water lines and pump stations. It owns valuable franchises for ONE HUNDRED AND SEVENTY-NINE (179) miles of main trunk pipe line, reaching clear across nine Kansas counties to the banks of navigable water close to Kansas City, where the company already owns a FIFTY-SEVEN acre farm on which refinery number 2 will be built this summer and the pipe line completed to it. FORTY MILES of this pipe line is paid for and at the stations, ready to haul out along the line at Piqua, Neosha Falls, LeRoy and Cherryvale, Kansas. Connections will be made in the pipe line every FIVE or TEN miles and fuel oil drawn from the main pipe line into storage tanks along the route through the richest section of Kansas, where it will command a ready sale from the farmers at good prices, as coal sells for from $4 to $7 per ton along the trunk pipe line route, and three barrels of oil are equal to one ton of good coal. Our THIRTY THOUSAND ACRES of oil territory comprises some of the richest and most valuable properties in the entire oil fields. The FIVE pumping plants and the SEVENTY-NINE producers on a part of these holdings represent an asset that some concerns have spent a million dollars for and not equaled

In addition to all these assets, owned and controlled by the Uncle Sam company, there are now THOUSANDS of dollars in the treasury and also over ONE HUNDRED AND TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS subscribed on gilt-edged installment contracts for stock already allotted and which will be paid in during the next five months. This money comes in from a THOUSAND TO FIFTEEN HUNDRED dollars per day. So you can see that while the Uncle Sam company is undertaking a vast enterprise, it has a steady inflow of cash to assist in doing all that is planned. Authorized capitalization of the Uncle Sam company is TEN MILLION shares of par value ONE DOLLAR PER SHARE. Stock is non-assessable. FIFTY-EIGHT per cent of this stock is now owned by anti-trust haters of the first degree. FORTY-TWO per cent of this stock, or FOUR MILLION AND TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND SHARES, are now in the treasury and will be sold at from 10 to 30 cents per share. There are no large capitalists in this company. It is a common man's company.

Stock Will Be Advanced 20 Per Cent, Thursday, July 20.

After midnight next Thursday no one will be able to secure a single share of the Uncle Sam stock under a 20 per cent advance over present prices. The stock now is EASILY WORTH 25 CENTS per share and WILL SOON BE SELLING FOR THAT. Better not dally a minute, but mail your check or draft at once. All letters that are in the mails and at their starting point that bear the postmark before and up to Thursday at midnight, July 20, will be accepted at the folliwing prices:

☞ 100 shares, $12.00; 250 shares $28.00; 500 shares, $50.00; 1,000 shares, $100.00; 5,000 shares, $490.00; 10,000 shares, $975.00; 20,000 shares, $1,940.00.

Installment offers: 100 shares, $2.50 cash, and five monthly payments of $2.00 each. 250 shares, $5.00 cash and five monthly payments of $5.00 each. 500 shares, $10.00 cash, five monthly payments of $9.00 each. 1,000 shares, $15.00 cash, five monthly payments of $19.00 each. 3,000 shares, $30.00 cash, five monthly payments of $60.00 each. 10,000 shares, $100 cash, five monthly payments of $200.00 each. Make all drafts, checks and money orders to The Uncle Sam Company or H. H. Tucker, Jr., secretary, and your stock will be forwarded by return mail or money returned promptly.

Company Will Own Property Worth Five Million Dollars Within a Year.

The Uncle Sam Company expects to have at least two hundred producing wells under the pump within a year. It will acquire at least twenty thousand acres more oil lands. Complete a fuel pipe line to central Nebraska. Build refinery number 2 on the banks of navigable waters. Build refinery number 3 in central Oklahoma, where the company is now securing oil holdings to take care of the Oklahoma refinery and furnish it ample production. It will rapidly push the Kansas City pipe line to completion. In this small space we cannot outline the many strong points of this company, but it is a winner and we don't care whether you are a banker, merchant, farmer or professional man, you cannot find a better investment than this stock. The company is PAYING AS IT GOES, which is also another strong point in its favor. There are no mortgages or bonds, nor never will be, to sap the earnings of the company, for when the above mentioned stock is sold it will furnish close to EIGHT HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS with which to complete this great enterprise.

That Oil Trust Lie About the Supreme Court Decision, Put Out by the Oil Thieves, To Deceive Investors.

It is a well known fact that among oil men, and men who are vitally interested in the struggle for justice in the oil fields against that well known pirate of American commerce, that the law passed by the last Kansas legislature to build a state refinery would never stand the test of the courts. Upon the final decision by the supreme court last week several telegrams were sent out from oil trust headquarters in the east, but dated at Topeka, Kan. These dispatches were prominently displayed in several well known trust-owned papers and intimated that this decision was very detrimental to the independent refineries. Now, don't let these oil trust scarecrows deceive you. There is a maximum freight law in Kansas that is worth all the other laws that could be put on the statute books. The law is conceded by able attorneys to be constitutional and the railroads of the state have already accepted its scheduled rates, which are fairly reasonable, but not as reasonable as they will probably be made by the next legislature. There is also a strong anti-discrimination law. These are the two laws that mean something. Don't get it into your head that even one little alfalfa field of Kansas is whipped by the oil thieves and their gang of bulldozers. Kansans are in the fight to win and win they will. There is not a state officer but what will do all in his power for justice in the oil fields. Governor Hoch has shown his honesty and sincerity at every move and his every act proves that he is ready to fight for the interests of justice in the oil fields. Kansas is more determined today than ever. Come to the oil fields and see the work going on. There are producers after producers that will not sell the oil trust a gallon of oil at the thieving prices now offered. A pipe line to the Gulf is practically assured, and with the great independent Uncle Sam refinery and pipe line reaching the Missouri river on the north and striking determined and well manned blows for right and justice in the Missouri valley territory, and with Tom Lawson keeping them busy on Wall street, just put it down in your hat that he who laughs last laughs best. Remember, Kansans finish what they start and the ridicule and misleading statements put out by the oil trust hirelings the other day is one of the cowardly that is rallying all Kansas to the suppo of the Uncle Sam independent refine and pipe lines. This company must the day for Kansas. It has nearly thousand stockholders in the state with its great production the chances ten to one that it will fill the place three or four state refineries, and has the ENTIRE STATE FOR A FIE in which to sell its products. Everyb is for it and we would not be afraid wager ten to one that there is not a m ber of the supreme court of the state what would go out of his way to speak good word for our success and to assist other Kansas home enterpris Kansans are standing together and the can be but one end to the present str gle, and that is justice. Any reports out by the oil gang and their perju reporters like the falsehood wired other day will prove to be ground when the facts are considered. T Uncle Sam refinery and pipe lines is Kansas enterprise that will be watc over with a jealous eye by about tenths of the people in Kansas, money invested in this great enterp will be safe, as the people are not going to demand a square deal for home institution, but will force the and compel such conditions to exist.

Allen is seriously wounded, and may die. Barksdale is slightly wounded. The shooting was done with a shotgun, the negroes firing from ambush.

A posse was quickly organized and pursuit given to the Harris. In a running fight between the posse and the negroes, one of the latter was killed and Hardin Edwards, a member of the posse, was severely wounded.

"Red Madness" Seizes Paris.

(From The New York Press.)

It is far from consoling to women who dislike "loud" garb to learn that the dazzling checks which have proved a decidedly mixed dressing this summer are to be replaced by suits of various shades of red. Paris is "red mad," it seems, and that color is seen everywhere in the streets. Brick and tomato are in the lead for popularity, and as both are singularly trying to the average complexion, the beauty doctors probably will be called upon to perform a little magic. Some red gowns, however, are beautiful, especially those which are composed of several shades ranging from a delicate pink to the deepest of jacqueminot. Mrs. Potter Palmer, who is in London, is affecting these shades, and sometimes gives the final touch to the color scheme by wearing a pink rose in her beautiful white hair.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT IN ROLE OF CAMP COOK

OYSTER BAY, July 19.—President Roosevelt and his party of youthful companions with whom he passed last night in camp on the shore of Long Island sound, returned to Sagamore Hill today. Early last evening the party pitched camp at a picturesque spot on Lloyds neck. Both supper and breakfast were prepared in camp, the president himself directing the cooking of the food. No tents were taken along, the party sleeping in the open air with tarpaulin blankets as their only protection. The young people listened to stories and experiences which the president related and the hour was late before they attempted to sleep. All were up early and after breakfast rowed back to Sagamore Hill, in the cool of the morning.

SHE THREW CARBOLIC ACID IN AGED FATHER'S EYES

CHICAGO, July 19.—Esther Macken, a young woman who acted as housekeeper for her father, who is 70 years old, tonight threw carbolic acid in her father's eyes, totally blinding him. She told the police, after being arrested, that her father had interfered so often in the management of the household affairs that she could no longer endure it, and that during a quarrel she picked up the bottle of acid and dashed it in his face.

He served bravely during the four years of conflict, receiving a wound at the battle of Jonesboro which caused permanent paralysis. He has one brother residing in Atlanta, J. L. Cobb, a well-known lawyer.

MRS. FRANK REMFERT, A WOMAN who lives near Constitution, Ga., had a lively encounter with Constable W. E. Anderson, of Judge Buzbee's court, and as a result the constable found himself a prisoner in a barn for several minutes yesterday morning. The constable went to the woman's home for the purpose of making a levy on the latter's horse. He was accompanied by another constable, Clarke. While Clarke was trying to explain to Mrs. Remfert why the levy was necessary, Anderson stepped into the stable to put a halter on the horse. "Click" went a spring lock as the woman stepped to the door, and Anderson found himself a prisoner. Constable Clarke and County Officer Poole, who had just stepped up, explained that Anderson was doing only his duty, and he was given his freedom.

O. R. LUND, A UNITED STATES soldier, Monday afternoon appointed himself commander of Whitehall viaduct, and was fined $5.75 by the recorder yesterday afternoon for usurping authority. Lund tanked up and managed to stagger down Whitehall street about 5 o'clock Monday afternoon. He stationed himself near the viaduct, and as a buggy passed he rushed out into the street and grabbed the bridle. "I am commander in chief of this fort," he said in a harsh tone, between "hics." "By whose order are you attempting to cross the lines?" The bewildered driver would pass on, and Lund would stagger back to the sidewalk. He confessed to the recorder that he had imbibed too freely, and the judge made his fine light.

GOOD BUSINESS BY STEAMBOATS

Increase of 6,000 Tons During Year on Chattahoochee.

New Plant of Columbus Railroad Company Starts Up—Chief Wiley Williams To Introduce Important Resolution at County Officers' Meeting.

Columbus, Ga., July 19.—(Special.)—The boats of the Columbus Steamboat Association plying the Chattahoochee river carried 109,681 tons of freight during the fiscal year just ended. This is an increase of about 6,000 tons over the previous year.

This does not include the freight tonnage of one or two other boats on the lower river, but at the same time accounts for the great bulk of business done on the Chattahoochee-Flint river system during the year.

The report as to business done and passengers hauled has just been compiled for the United States engineer by J. M. Bivins, secretary and treasurer of the Columbus Steamboat Association.

Several lines of boats operate regularly between Columbus and Apalachicola on the gulf of Mexico. The principal articles of freight handled are cotton, cotton seed, fertilizers, grain, rosin, turpentine, molasses, hides and skins, live stock, provisions shingles and bricks.

Steam Plant Starts Up.

Columbus, Ga., July 19.—(Special.)—The new 400 horse-power engine of the Columbus Railroad Company at its steam plant on Second avenue was given a trial this morning and worked nicely. This steam plant is for the purpose of supplementing the company's power service from its power house on the Chattahoochee river. The power that drives the street cars and lights the city's streets and residences comes from three sources—two river plants and a steam power plant.

(From Harper's Weekly.)

The defendant, who was held on the charge of keeping a dog without a license, repeatedly tried to interrupt the evidence, but was hushed each time by the court. Finally the clerk turned to him.

"Do you wish the court to understand," he asked, "that you refuse to renew your dog license?"

"Yes, but—"

"We want no 'buts.' You must renew your license or be fined. You know it expired on January 1."

"Yes, but so did the dog."

duct at the Isle of Palms, brought about an estrangement between the Sanfords, which culminated in the separation of the two.

That Wright and Mrs. Sanford were good friends is not disputed. Other clerks that work in the Southern ticket office say that Mrs. Sanfrod frequently stopped in the office and had pleasant and friendly chats with Wright, but they say that no attempts at secrecy were made at all. On the contrary, that these chats are alleged to have been very friendly and open. In fact, Wright's friends strongly protest that there could have been no improper relation between the two, the past records and reputation of both being so very much all that it should be.

Rumors Afloat.

The city is filled with rumors, some of them exertmely ugly, but your correspondent has diligently sought to separate the wheat from the chaff and give only such details as seem to be authentic.

Sanford is one of the best known men in Georgia. He served this county as tax collector for three terms. For several years he was a very poewrful factor in Floyd county politics. Since his retirement from office he has been in the insurance business in Rome, and has done well.

While Mr. Sanford is a man of quick temper, nevertheless his friends are very fond of him. He is a Knight Templar and a Shriner.

Mr. Wright was born and raised in Rome, and has borne up to this time a reputation without a blemish. He has been connected with the Southern railway for several years, for the past year as city passenger agent. He stood very high in railroad circles and was offered a promotion to another city recently at a salary twice the size of the one he received here. Mr. Benscoter, of the Southern, stated today over the long distance phone that he was just preparing to offer him a promotion at three times his Rome salary when the news of his tragic death was made known to him.

While Mr. Sanford would make no statement, still a close friend of his states that Mr. Sanford has said at the jail that while he regretted to kill Wright, he deemed it absolutely necessary to do so, and had positive evidence in his possession that would justify him in the eyes of all right-thinking men.

Mrs. Wright Prostrated.

It was also rumored that Wright had a pistol on his person when shot, but Undertaker Herndon, the only man who was allowed to touch Wright after the shooting, and pending the question of whether or not a coroner's inquest should be held, stated that he found no weapon of any kind on Wright. Sanford's wife and children are not in the city.

Mrs. Wright is absolutely prostrated, and grave fears are entertained concerning her condition. Sanford is in jail, and has retained the services of Dean & Dean, who will represent him when his case comes to trial.

There are all sorts of rumors and allegations floating around, some of them utterly absurd; others that can not be traced. Just before leaving today, Wright went up town, and accompanied his physician to his home for the purpose of seeing Mrs. Wright, who has not been at all well for some time. Just before leaving his home, he turned to his wife and said:

"You must hurry up and get well, dear, get well for my sake."

These were the last words he ever addressed to his wife.

It is doubtful if ever before this city has been so wrought up over anything. Both men were prominent and well known. Both have scores of strong friends and partisans. Various opinions are entertained of the affair, and it will perhaps, not be cleared up in its entirety until the trial of the case.

Warned Him by Telephone.

It is said, upon good authority, that Sanford called Wright over the long distance 'phone, from Augusta, last night and told him that it was his intention to kill him on sight. Wright is said to have told Sanford that he was laboring under a delusion, and that investigation would show him to be mistaken. This evidently had no effect upon Sanford.

In regard to the question as to whether Wright was armed at the time of the shooting, there is some conflict of evidence, but it seems that he was, or, at least, Sanford had reason to so think. Sanford, so those to whom he has talked say, asserts that he saw Wright make a motion as though to draw a pistol.

Sanford says that he first shot Wright in the hand. Sanford is said to have said to Wright just before shooting him:

"I guess you have been expecting this."

Wright's Hand Shot Off.

Wright then, according to this authority, made a movement as though to get his pistol, whereupon Sanford shot his hand off.

The above is what Sanford's friends say, and it is a fact that Wright's right hand was riddled.

Your correspondent was not able to secure conclusive evidence upon these points, but it is said that the pistol alleged to have been in Wright's hand at the time of the shooting is in the hands of one of the witnesses.

After the shooting, Sanford telegraphed his wife as follows:

"Well, I have killed him."

Sanford reached Rome this morning.

The grand jury, which is now in session, returned a true bill at a late hour this afternoon, charging Sanford with murder.

PEACHES BRING GOOD PRICE.

Mrs. Brinson Sells Fruit on Trees for $2,700.

Augusta, Ga., July 19.—(Special.)—The sale of an orchard of peaches, on the trees, for $2,700 is an evidence of the profit there is in fruit culture in Georgia, and that the fleecy staple is not the only thing the soil can produce that will coin money.

Mrs. Frank Brinson, of Burke county, accepted this lump sum for her peach crop, the purchaser to do the picking, crating, shipping and accepting all the risks incident to their transportation to market and sale.

It was only a few years ago, just before his death, that Frank Brinson planted the orchard, as an investment. It has been bearing only two or three years, but it has made exceptionally fine progress, and is pronounced one of the best in this section. This year the crop is exceptionaly fine.

There is a fortune in peach cultivation when intelligently carried out, and there are few years when an orchard will not bring a handsome return. Recent experiments have shown that the territory contiguous to Augusta is second to none in the south for peach cultivation, and it is no surprise that hundreds of agriculturists are turning their attention in this direction, as well as the fruit culturists.

LAW TO PROBE TOWN TOPICS

Mystery of Those Big Payments to be Revealed.

Mrs. Collis P. Huntington Paid $10,000 for Her Copy of "Fads and Fancies"—Why Did She Pay Such a Sum for Such a Book?

New York, July 19.—The books of the Town Topics Company, in so far as they deal with the book on American society, entitled "Fads and Fancies," which was sold by subscription, and on which the publishers realized approximately $200,000 will be examined by representatives of the district attorney's office, no matter what opposition is made to such a step. This announcement was made today by Assistant District Attorney Gans, after he had a conference with Assistant District Attorney Krotel, who is in charge of the investigation of the affair which is being made by the district attorney's office.

"It is absolutely necessary for the end of justice that we make a full examination of the books of 'Fads and Fancies,'" said Mr. Gans, "and we will do so, no matter how much we are opposed. This matter is going to be probed thoroughly, no matter who it hits or how exalted his social or other standing."

Mr. Krotel first came into the case when he was assigned to prosecute Charles H. Ahle, who was arrested on complaint of Edwin M. Post, who charged that Ahle attempted to blackmail him. Post declared that Ahle attempted to force him to subscribe $500 for a book on New York society. He alleged that Ahle told him a scandalous story, involving his name, was in possession of a New York weekly paper, but that it would not be published if Mr. Post would subscribe for the book.

The sum was paid to Mr. Ahle in the presence of detectives, and his arrest followed. The case is now awaiting the action of the grand jury, and Mr. Krotel has announced that several persons prominent in society have announced their willingness to join Mr. Post in the prosecution.

When Mr. Krotel examined the books of The Town Topics Company yesterday, he was refused permission to inspect some of the entries having to do with the book, "Fads and Fancies." He learned, however, he said, that while the regular subscription price for the book was $1,500, several persons paid larger sums. Among those was Mrs. Collis P. Huntington, widow of the multi-millionaire railroad promoter, who was credited with paying $10,000 for her subscription copy of the book.

That the district attorney is determined to question other prominent persons in addition to Mrs. Huntington, with regard to the subscriptions for Fads and Fancies, was shown today when subpenas were issued for former Judge Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the executive committee of the United States Steel Corporation, and Giovanni Morosini, a wealthy banker. Neither subpena had been served today.

ELECTRIC BOLT HITS DYNAMITE

Explosion Follows that Tears Five Men to Bits.

Heads, Arms and Legs Scattered Around for a Distance of Five Hundred Feet—Men Had Sought Shelter in Dynamite House.

Des Moines, Iowa, July 19.—Five miners were blown to pieces by the explosion of 25 pounds of dynamite in a storage powder house at the West Riverside coal mine early today.

The dead:

CHARLES BROWN, engineer, leaves wife and daughter.

LUKE MILLER, sinker, bachelor.

HARRY BELKNAP, sinker, bachelor.

DELL VANCE, sinker, leaves wife and four children.

GEORGE ARROWOOD, pumpman, leaves wife and four children.

Heads, arms and legs were scattered around for a distance of 500 feet. The men, five in number, were engaged in sinking a new shaft, and during the early morning a severe rain storm came up which compelled the men to stop work. They sought shelter from the storm in the powder house. While in the house the lightning struck a tree near the building and from there ran to the house, igniting the dynamite as well as two kegs of powder.

Not a piece of wood larger than a foot long remains of the building.

ARKANSAS RATES UNDER FIRE.

Complaints Are Made To Commissioner Cockrell.

Little Rock, Ark., July 19.—Interstate Commerce Commissioner F. M. Cockrell arrived here today and gave a hearing to complaints originating in this state. The first matter taken up was the petition of the railroad commission of Arkansas to compel the St. Louis and North Arkansas railroad to reduce its passenger fare of 6 2-3 cents per mile on its line from Seligman, Ark., to Beaver, Ark., to 3 cents per mile. After a discussion between counsel, it was ordered that the evidence and briefs be filed with the commission in Washington on or before November 15, next.

A delegation of fruit growers and shippers from northwest Arkansas and southwest Missouri arrived tonight, and will appear before Commissioner Cockrell tomorrow to be heard on complaints entered by them. In their complaint, the fruit growers declare that the practice of the transportation companies of giving car companies exclusive contracts for furnishing refrigeration equipment and fixing charges for the same is an abuse that is unjust and oppressive to the growers. They also declare the transportation charges on fruits are disproportionate to charges on products of like value, and which require equally speedy service, anr are exclusive.

To Indorse Bill.

Columbus, Ga., July 19.—(Special.)—At the approaching convention of the county officers of Georgia, at Bainbridge, Captain Wiley Williams, chief of police of Columbus, will introduce a resolution approving the bill of Mr. Felder, of Bibb, making burglary a capital crime, when the burglary is committed in the night time and when the burglar is armed. It is very probable that the resolution will be adopted. Captain Williams indorses this bill most earnestly, and says that it ought to become a law, pointing out that a man who will burglarize one's house will commit murder if discovered in the act of committing his crime.

Chase Moonshiner Through Woods.

Huntsville, Ala., July 19.—(Special.)—Deputy Colector Anderson and Deputy Collector Root and Deputy Marshal Thompson have returned to the city after making a successful raid near Joppa, in Cullman county. Two big illicit stills were captured, and Winston Knowles, an alleged still owner, was brought here and lodged in jail in default of $500 bond. Knowles was captured after a long race through the woods. Two of his companions who were found at work at the still escaped.

PLAN OUTLINED FOR EQUITABLE

Westinghouse Believes Scheme Will Satisfy Public.

Plan Proposed Contemplates Putting the Policy Holders in Complete Control of the Affairs of the Equitable Society.

New York, July 19.—Expressing the belief that the present trustee arrangements for control of the Equitable Life Assurance Society may only temporarily satisfy either the policy holders or the public and that a real solution of the society's difficulties has not been reached, George Westinghouse has suggested a new plan for stock control of the society by 5,000 policy holders.

Mr. Westinghouse's plan is outlined in a letter to Paul D. Cravath, attorney of this city, dated June 21, and made public today. The proposition outlined is that all shareholders be invited to place their shares with those of Mr. Ryan in the hands of the trustees, with power to vote for an amendment to the society's charter, providing that the stock shall consist of 5,000 shares of $20 each, instead of 1,000 shares of $100 each; that no person except a policy holder shall be a director; that at each annual election seven policy holders, who have not previously served, shall be chosen, and that the trustees be directed and empowered to offer for sale at $1,000 a share the 5,000 shares contemplated by the amended charter to the 5,000 largest policy holders, and in the event of any such offer not being accepted, then to continue to offer said shares to the next largest policy holders until the whole 5,000 shares shall have been disposed of. In this letter Mr. Westinghouse said:

"I believe the foregoing plan would result in the selection of 5,000 of the most influential policy holders, and would tend greatly to strengthen the society in the estimation of the public. These 5,000 policy holders would undoubtedly be recognized as important men of affairs, and would obviously represent a very large amount of the outstanding policies of the society. The plan, while providing for the retention of experienced directors, will also insure seven new directors each year."

Mr. Westinghouse said today he believed that under his plan the desired reform can be promptly accomplished without legislation. He thought it worthy of special note that the less than one-tenth of 1 per cent of the policy holders have felt sufficiently interested in the affairs of the society to make suggestions to the trustees to aid them in the selection of directors to fill existing vacancies.

Postmaster Wyman will now resume stamping "fraudulent" on mail addressed to the bank and to Lewis and will return it to the senders.

HORRIBLE DEATH FROM BITE OF CAT

Samuel Cook, Aged Fifteen Years, Dies of Hydrophobia.

Picked Up Strange Cat in Public Road and, While Petting It, the Cat Bit the Boy on the Thumb—Hydrophobia Soon Developed.

Constitution Bureau, 467 Second Street Macon, Ga., July 19.—Samuel Cook, the 15-year-old son of S. E. Cook, a farmer living near Cross Keys, just outside the city limits, on the east side of the river, died a most horrible death this morning after suffering about eight hours from rabies, supposed to have been caused by a cat bite. Early this morning the boy complained and asked that a physician be summoned to relieve him of a peculiar suffering which he was unable to explain. He soon afterwards asked for a drink of water, and as soon as he had touched his lips, he became wild and was beyond the control of his parents during the remainder of the time. Nearly a dozen physicians were called in, and the general opinion was that the young man was suffering from hydrophobia, and every effort was made to relieve him, but with no avail. He died this afternoon after a day's suffering, the horrors of which are indescribable.

About three months ago he spent the night with an uncle on his farm, near the home of his parents, and there he was bitten by a cat. He had assisted in milking the cows, and had gone out into the road to return to the house when he found a stray cat. He picked it up and stroked it, and its seeming hunger caused the cat to lick his hand fresh from the milk. The boy allowed the cat to get hold of his thumb, and in getting away a scratch from the cat's teeth caused the blood to flow. This is supposed to have caused the hydrophobia to set in. No attention was given the bite, and it soon healed. There was no evidence of rabies until today.

At Recorder's Court.

Macon, Ga., July 19.—(Special.)—The last three sessions of recorder's court here have been unusually heavy, and the fines imposed have reached nearly $500. Today eleven prisoners were sent to the Bibb county chaingang, and two were bound over to await trials in the city court. Negro boys are again becoming prominent as thieves, and two were up this morning for purse snatching, who are too young to be prosecuted. Another not more than 13 years old, was up on a charge of larceny, and all are held until Recorder Nottingham can see those who are responsible for the good conduct of the youngsters.

Raided Negro Club Room.

Macon, Ga., July 19.—(Special.)—Sheriff Robertson and a number of deputies raided a club room on Fourth street last night, and captured seven negroes, who are now in Bibb jail awaiting trials on charges of gambling. The doors were broken down with axes.

Precedent Discovered.

Macon, Ga., July 19.—(Special.)—Since a search of court records was instituted several weeks ago by Alderman Massee and the city attorney here in an effort to ascertain whether the trustees of Mercer university can be forced to admit twelve students appointed by city officials on an agreement made in 1873, a case has been discovered in which this same trouble existed twenty years ago and attorneys who took up the matter succeeded in forcing the authorities to admit a student, a young Mr. Anderson, who was appointed and rejected.

Alderman Massee, who is making the fight, now thinks he has sufficient grounds upon which to enter suit against the board in an effort to force them to admit the appointees of the city and has accordingly prepared to enter the suit. Papers will be filed within a few days and the contest will begin. The alderman declares that he will fight the matter through every court in the land rather than be defeated in this issue. The outcome will be watched with interest on account of the long and heated discussion of the matter.

Charged with Burglary.

Macon, Ga., July 19.—(Special.)—Alonzo Pope, a negro, is held at police station on a charge of burglary said to have been committed at the residence of A. M. Birch on High street several days ago. The negro was in charge of a shotgun, which he claims to have loaded for service in the event of being accosted by the occupants of the house.

As to Back Taxes.

Macon, Ga., July 19.—(Special.)—There are now strong indications that the back tax matter which has engaged the attention of the city council here for nearly six months and during the discussion of which it was shown that nearly one hundred thousand dollars had been cut out of the city taxes during the past twenty years, will be carried into the courts by those who have opposed relieving the charitable organizations and the large manufacturing industries which have profited from the action.

Part of a fund for placing the matter in the courts has been raised and it is stated today on good authority here that mandamus proceedings will be instituted with a view of forcing the mayor and council to collect the full amount of taxes as required by law. A special committee on back taxes reported in favor of the collection of between $8,000 and $10,000 of the outstanding amount, and this would have been placed to the credit of the city through the marshal had not members of council voted to relieve the taxes.

The matter has caused wide discussion and there are many citizens who have failed to understand why council failed to collect the taxes after the city attorney and other leading attorneys of the city advised the members that such action would be legal. The largest amount of the back taxes would fall to the Bibb mills. This concern has a contract with the city of Macon whereby it is claimed that a certain portion of the city taxes were to be relieved every year. This contract is declared illegal, but along with other large manufacturing industries, council has chosen to leave the taxes uncollected, and the fight which is to be made in the courts will assume an interesting aspect.

Damage Suit Filed.

Macon, Ga., July 19.—(Special.)—Robert E. Glenn, one of Macon's most popular police officers, filed a damage suit in the city court this morning against the Western Union Telegraph and Cable Company here for the recovery of $3,000, on a charge that while in Memphis a year ago this concern failed to deliver a message which his wife had sent him.

The officer wandered away from home and his post of duty, and was gone several days, no one here being acquainted with the cause of his mysterious absence. One day he wired his wife and asked if his position was still open. She claims to have answered telling him that his employers would await his arrival, and the officer charges that this message was never delivered. He afterwards went to Texas until several months thereafter he learned that he would find a welcome and returned. He charges that the failure to deliver the message caused him to remain away.

NEW LODGE AT VALDOSTA.

Odd Fellows Organize With Sixty Members.

Valdosta, Ga., July 19.—(Special.)—The institution of the new lodge of Odd Fellows occurred here on Monday night. J. T. Blalock, the grand marshal of the grand lodge of Georgia, had been very zealous and collected the names of over sixty who expressed a desire to join. This is the second lodge of Odd Fellows in this city, and will, no doubt, soon rival its sister lodge in numbers. The new lodge is called Valdosta after the city of its location.

Hon. Robert T. Daniel, of Griffin, occupied the chair of right supporter to the noble grand, and in a most lucid manner communicated the secret work of the degree to the neophytes.

When these solemn ceremonies were over, in a few well chosen and eulogistic words, Grand Marshal Blalock introduced Judge Daniel. This talented orator is a devotee of the principles of Odd Fellowship, and made a charming address.

And it was only last winter that Chauncey Depew was telling us what "great interests" he represented as United States senator from New York and how the optimist always wins."

Pass the Pass Bill.

The Constitution does not, of course, intend to criticize any member of the legislature for seeking to perfect, from his standpoint, the pending anti-pass bill; but we again urge the members of the house to enact some anti-pass bill into law without unnecessary delay.

The members of the legislature cannot fail to understand that the overwhelming sentiment of the people of Georgia is in favor of such legislation. The universal approval of the action of the last legislature in prohibiting the using of passes by the judiciary shows conclusively the trend of popular thought. The people believe the same rule should apply to members of the legislature and other officials of the state as well as to the judges, and certainly there is no good reason why one class of public officials should be placed on a different plane from the others.

As The Constitution has frequently pointed out, if it is right to pass such a law affecting the judiciary which interprets the law, it is certainly just as necessary to prohibit the legislators who make the laws, and the officials of the executive department who execute them, from accepting such favors at the hands of the railroads. There should be no discrimination.

It is the plain duty of the legislature now in session to pass this and such other reform measures as are called for by the people. Nor should there be delay on its part.

For the Southern Nimrod.

If you are a lover of big game—game of the sort that gives you a tussle before you nail the pelt on your barn-door—you won't have to go to the Texas panhandle, Oklahoma or the wilds of Colorado. Down in Florida they are pestered with panthers and wild-cats that can be safely pitted against any bob-cat that ever came out of the west for unadulterated ferocity and staying qualities in a fight.

Over in Parry county the other day a boy of 12 years bagged a panther that measured 11 feet 6 inches from its muzzle to the tip of its tail. At least, that's the tale that comes to us on good authority. We are told that such specimens are pretty frequent in that part of the Florida peninsula and that the farmers have been considerably annoyed by wholesale depredations against their sheepfolds and chicken yards.

The Okefenokee swamp offers, too, a tempting field to the man fond of the bear, the wild deer, and snakes of the sort that never knew the confining limits of a bottle or jug.

All of which goes to show that the south, in season, will not yield in the slightest respect to any other portion of the country as regards resources and attractions.

Forestry's Debt to Dr. Herty.

To Dr. Charles H. Herty, formerly a member of the faculty of the University of Georgia, but now connected with the national bureau of forestry, is due the credit of radical improvements over the old method of turpentine collecting which have made great headway in a remarkably short time. Practically only three years old, Dr. Herty's innovation has already grown vastly in favor with the turpentine trade, with the promise of rapidly increasing its popularity and usefulness.

The old method of turpentine collection largely impaired the further utility of the tree and exposed it to the ravages of both fire and storm. The cup and gutter system devised by Dr. Herty, which has been fully described by The Constitution, has not only reduced these disadvantages to a mimimum, but insured a decided increase in the quantity and quality of the product. Recent experiments made with improved patterns of the invention demonstrated that trees subjected to that process yielded as much as 30 per cent more product than the boxed trees.

A circular recently issued by the bureau of forestry, citing these and many other interesting facts about the new system, contains an interesting statement from its originator. Convincing evidence of the value of the invention is given in the following extract from Dr. Herty's statement:

> In addition to the increased returns from the use of cups, the naval stores industry has been benefited in two other lines by the development of the cup system. In many cases timber-owners have made decided concessions in their leases to operators on condition that the cups be used and no boxes cut. In other instances large tracts of timber have been brought under turpentine operation by the cup system, though their owners have persistently refused to lease them for box-cutting.
>
> The rapid rise in the value of turpentine timber within the past few years has contributed largely to its more conservative treatment. A thing of little value in the past, it has received only a small amount of care. Its rapid enhancement in value and the strong probability of a still further increase gives the turpentine operator every reason to treat his timber carefully. Formerly it was an easy matter for an operator to work hastily through a place, then move a short distance and develop a new place on timber just as inexpensive as that on which he had been working. But now the operator knows that when his present location is exhausted he is certain to experience difficulty in finding a new location, and equally certain that a largely-increased price must be paid for it. This natural operation of the law of supply and demand is rapidly bringing serious and earnest thought to the question of how best to preserve the present holdings. The cup and gutter system, with its great economies, is doing much to solve the problem.

The somewhat reckless manner in which lumber and naval stores operators have handled southern forests in the past has undoubtedly impaired our fine timber resources to an extent. Of course, the south yet possesses magnificent virgin forest preserves as well as those of a second growth. But in view of the present marvelous epidemic of structural and railway construction in this section, it behooves those who wish to safeguard southern forests to begin without delay the exertion of all their influence and ingenuity to this end. The demands on our forest riches were never more depleting than at the present time; and along with the thinning of the timber belts should go measures looking toward restoration as well as preservation.

Dr. Herty's invention is of the greatest value in the latter regard. Already southern forestry is decidedly his debtor and we hope to see the obligation made yet more emphatic in the immediate future.

A Vain Search.

The claim of British cotton manufacturers that Africa, India, the West Indies, Borneo, Lagos and Cyprus possess such natural conditions as will eventually bring these countries into strong competition with the United States in the growing of cotton seems to be a case of the wish being father to a thought which has but little substance.

For a good many years the different European countries—Germany and France and Italy, as well as Great Britain—have been experimenting with cotton growing in their different African and Asiatic colonies, but so far with very small success. The reports made to the governments, or to commercial bodies under whose auspices the experimenting has been done, have been anything but roseate. It is true that spots have been found where cotton can be grown; but in all such cases up to date the obstacles presenting themselves are of a nature to preclude, apparently, the possibility of production upon anything like a commercial scale.

There is, therefore, nothing in the experiments so far to give rise to a fear that the southern states are in any danger of losing the practical monopoly they now enjoy in cotton production. We do not grow all of the cotton used in the world, and never have; but we grow so large a proportion of the world's crop as to hold practical control of the supply. And there is every good reason to believe we will continue to exercise that control, especially if the cotton growers adopt every possible device to make their crop as cheaply as possible, and, what is most important, if the methods of handling the cotton after it has been picked are improved. This will mean not only greater immediate profits to the growers, but will serve as the best possible fortification against the possibility of future competition.

The reports of the efforts of British and European manufacturers to develop other sources of supply are chiefly valuable in showing the constantly increasing world demand for the fleecy staple. It is this in which the southern cotton grower has the greatest interest. All the world needs the precious product of the southern fields—needs not only the present total production, but more. This fact insures good prices, not only in the immediate present, but for the future. There is, therefore, absolutely nothing in the reports from abroad to cast a shadow upon the outlook for the future.

Let's Push It, Then!

How often have we seen this cheerful legend at the head of a long-winded recital of high-pitched hopes and valorously-formed plans—in contemplation—

"WORK ON CANAL WILL BE PUSHED!"

We have the highest respect for and confidence in the majority of the gentlemen connected in the past and present with this vital enterprise; and we believe that a good many of them are doing their best according to their lights.

But let's dispense with the promises, the windy dissertations on ethics, and the perpetual announcements of an intention to initiate the beginning of the first steps of the important preliminaries of the "indispensable preparatory details" and so on ad infinitum.

It was our impression all along that "work on the canal" was already being "pushed."

If not, then in the name of the American people, let's push it!

An Important Magazine Change.

The announcement that Leslie's Monthly is to adopt the new title of American Illustrated Magazine in conformity with its modern editorial character, calls to mind the vigorous personality of its founder. Frank Leslie, whose real name was Henry Carter, may fairly be called the founder of illustrated journalism in this country. He was an Englishman by birth, the son of a manufacturing haberdasher of a straight lace type. Old Carter's business notions did not jibe with the idea of a son of his trifling away his time drawing pictures, so when young Henry's first sketches were published in The London Punch they were signed by the pseudonym, Frank Leslie.

When the young artist broke loose altogether from business and came to America, he engaged in illustrated journalism under his new name. After a year's struggle success began to come and it was not many years before he had a full dozen money making publications, all bearing his name, which rapidly became synonymous with illustrated popular journalism. Illustrations he absolutely insisted upon and never in his career published a magazine that was not filled with pictures such as the great mass of people might appreciate.

The war completed Leslie's fortune. His illustrated newspaper had immense vogue and he had no less than twelve correspondents and artists at the front. The only means of reproduction in those days was from wood and to expedite the engraving of a big picture, Frank Leslie invented the clever device of dividing the block into twelve squares, giving one to each engraver and subsequently screwing them together. Thus doing in one day the work upon which his rials were slaving for a fortnight.

The most considerable of Frank Leslie's publications was Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly, started in 1875, which after his death in 1880 was published by his widow and subsequently sold to the present owners, under whose management it has been issued under the title of Leslie's Monthly Magazine.

In changing the name of this old landmark in magazinedom to the American Illustrated Magazine the publishers give as the main reason for this radical step the absolute difference between their present magazine and all the publications associated with the name of Leslie.

The Constitution wishes this well-known periodical the success it deserves under its new name.

LETTERS FROM PEOPLE.

Statement by Griffin Committee.

Editor Constitution: The report of the joint meeting of the house appropriations and agricultural committees with the senate finance committee Tuesday makes it appear that the committee from Griffin in opposition to the Conner bill appropriating $100,000 to an agricultural college at Athens that does not exist, was an unjustifiable "butting in" on a hearing that was set for the members of the board of trustees of the Athens university only.

While Chairman Davis made this ruling and adhered to it spite of all protests, and refused to allow the clerk of the committee to read the minutes to show for what purpose the agricultural committee of the house had been called to meet with the other committees if not to hear the arguments in regard to an agricultural college, it is none the less true that an examination of the minutes afterward showed that the consideration of the Conner bill was the special order of the day for the committee. Chairman Davis afterwards admitted this to Mr. Flynt, the representative from our county, and to different members of our delegation, and apologized for his action; but this did not in any degree atone for the wrong done.

The Griffin committee was present Tuesday not only at the invitation of the appropriations committee of the house, but at the invitation of the governor of Georgia, with whom it had a conference in the morning in regard to the matter upon which it had laid aside all other business and come to the state capital. As to the merits of its case, or what transpired at that conference, we have nothing to say here; but that it should have been denied even the half hour hearing that was finally pleaded for by its represenative, after being asked there to speak, is an outrage such as was never perpetrated before in Georgia within the knowledge of any one of us, and as such we denounce it, regardless of any apology or disclaimer that may come afterward.

We may not be such masters of statement as Professor White nor as eloquent as Chancellor Hill, but we claim to be representative citizens of a reputable community and believe that we have a right to a hearing before the lawmakers of the State, even if we are not all graduates of the state university and blind followers of its edicts.

Signed: N. B. Denny, mayor; Douglas Boyd, alderman; T. E. Patterson, J. D. Byrd, W. J. Kinard, L. Cleveland, D. J. Bailey, W. E. H. Searay, Jr., N. H. Beck, B. R. Blakeley, R. F. Strickland, Douglas Glessner, J. M. Kelly. All of whom were present.

Work for Women.

Editor Constitution: I noticed that your painstaking reported of the proceedings of the house of representatives refers to the bill which I introduced on the 16th instant, authorizing the admission of white female students to the school of pharmacy of the University of Georgia on a perfect equality with the male students as a step in the direction of coeducation at the university—a subject much discussed a few years ago.

I hasten to say that such is not the purpose of the bill. I never work by indirection.

The bill seeks to open a new avenue of honorable and profitable employment to the young women of Georgia and the south, who may prefer, or who may be compelled to carve their own way through the world.

The study of pharmacy, qualifying one to become a prescription clerk, offers an inviting field for study and activity to women.

I believe there are scores of young women in our state and in the south to whom this bill, if it should be enacted into law, will prove an inspiration and a life help.

I shall do my very best to persuade the general assembly to crown the bill with their unanimous and enthusiastic approval. Respectfully,

MARTIN V. CALVIN,
A Representative from the County of Richmond.
House of Representatives, Atlanta, July 17, 1905.

WHAT BURBANK HAS DONE.

Some of the Achievements of Marvelous Plant Breeder in "Creation."

(W. S. Harwood in The Country Calendar.)

For thirty-five years Mr. Burbank has been at work creating new forms of plant life and improving old ones. In that time he has created, by breeding and selection, more than 2,500 distinct species of plants.

Some of his "creations" are:

The primus berry, a fruit unknown before, made by the union of a blackberry and a raspberry, which union scientific men said was impossible.

The white blackberry, very beautiful, with a delicate flavor.

The "phenomenal berry," a similar creation, a cross between a raspberry and a California dewberry, having the color of a raspberry and the shape of a blackberry, but larger than either, far more productive, and with a flavor surpassing both.

The plumcot (result of the union of the apricot and the plum), of rare flavor and richness, again disproving the dictum of the scientists.

A plum with no pit and one with the flavor of the Bartlett pear.

A walnut first so thin of shell that the birds could peck through it, afterward bred backward along the path it had come until a shell of the required thickness was secured.

He has produced a new thornless castus, a combination of many other varieties, which bears a fruit, too, for man and beast, and which will redeem the desert places of the earth; he has done all these and many other marvelous things which may not be mentioned here for lack of space.

The Way We All Do.

(From The Somerville Journal.)

Bjorkyns—Bad cold you have, Bjenkyns. How did you contract it?

Bjenkyns—I didn't contract it. It was only a little one, and I expanded it.

Savage Bachelor.

"This paper says," remarked the callow youth, "that the bride was supported to the altar by her father."

"Yes," growled the savage bachelor, "and I'm offering odds of 50 to 1 that he'll have to keep on supporting her."

Way of the Waiter.

First Villager—"How is your son getting along since he went to the city?"

Second Villager—"Fine. He writes that he is carrying everything before him."

First Villager—"So! What restaurant is he carrying things in?"

THE PASSING THRONG.

He understood farming, but the ways of the city were a mystery that he had not solved.

His whiskers, his raiment, and more than all, his conduct, were like a sight of green fields, as good as a trip to the blossoming acres, far from the madding crowd.

He emerged from the south entrance of the capitol yesterday morning on the run. A car bound down town was passing and, with whiskers and coat tails spread out on the breeze like sails, he leaped down the steps, ran and at the risk of his neck caught the car. Still panting, he drew forth a two-dollar bill and handed it to the conductor as the car crossed Capitol avenue on Mitchell street.

But just then the conductor had to leave the car to turn on a signal light. The car was late and the conductor ran.

"That fellow's running away with your money," remarked the sly wag with the green tie and big diamond.

A look of apprehension swept the face of the verdant owner of the two-dollar bill. He sprang after the conductor, lifting up his voice in the time-honored shout of "Stop thief."

The passengers on the car howled with laughter, but he of the whiskers insisted on getting back his change before the conductor was permitted to return to the car.

RAILWAY NOTES.

The entire Atlanta railroad world yesterday was shocked by the news of the sudden and sensational death of Ticket Agent Wright, of Rome. Mr. Wright was well known and very well liked by a large number of friends, especially employees of the Southern railway. All of these to a man were disposed to believe that some terrible mistake had been made, in confirmation of which they spoke of his exemplary conduct for years, the fact that he never used intoxicants and had always seemed most happy in his home relations. It is seldom that the members of the local cinder colony express themselves as strongly and further interest was proved in that the long distance wire to Rome was kept busy in securing every detail connected with the tragedy. Mr. Wright was on two occasions a visitor to Atlanta last week. Both trips were on matters of business and he seemed to be even more cheerful than usual. Every further development is certain to be followed with exceptional interest among Mr. Wright's many railroad friends.

An excursion into Atlanta yesterday carried cars crowded with negro passengers. Not alone was the front platform of the first car back of the locomotive's tender crowded, but quite a number of negroes were on the coal on the tender while the train was in motion. To all appearances their position was a perilous one and attracted considerable criticism.

R. T. Cheatham was kept busy yesterday acknowledging congratulations on his new position. On every side the only drawback on the part of the congratulators was the fact that his new position takes him away from Atlanta. At the office it was stated that the exact date of assuming his new duties had not been fixed.

Heavy freight traffic continues and heavq shipments of cotton are reported. Railroad officials claim that some of the cars of Elbertas now being shipped from Georgia are the best fruit ever sent from the Empire state of the south and that the demand was of the kind that found the fruit bringing the biggest kind of prices in both the eastern and western cities. Especially high prices are reported in fruit sold at Chicago and Kansas City.

RICHES CAN'T SHIFT THIS TOMB

(From The Philadelphia Record.)

Flourtown, Pa.—Quaint circumstances surround the title deeds of a spot of ground on Camp hill. Nestling almost within an estate of 250 acres of rolling hills, shady groves, flowing streams and a belt of stately trees on the summit, and a little to the right of the entrance to the sloping lawn leading up to the mansion at the summit is a tiny plot, less than half an acre in extent, marring the gorgeous landscape, yet which the Van Rensselaer millions cannot buy. It is an old, old private cemetedy belonging to the Scull family, who were among the earliest settlers.

When the Van Rensselaers purchased the highest elevation of the four great hilltops of revolutionary fame—Camp hill, Barren hill, Fort hill and Militia hill—for buiding their tower mansion, it was with the hope of eventualy buying the little burial ground, removing the one lone grave and tombstone, tearing down the crumbling stone walls and including this little spot in the wide sweep of green lawn surrounding it.

But the little private burying ground, existing, it is said, since the time of the death of the original Nicholas Scull in 1703, seems destined to remain.

The Scull family has for more than two centuries been prominent in the settlement of the Whitemarsh valley and the neighborhood of Camp hill; and the Farmer family and the Scull family were the earliest and most extensive purchasers of land in the vicinity. Nicholas Scull, with others, landed in 1685, and in 1688 purchased 400 acres. He died in 1703, leaving a widow, Mary, and six sons. Nicholas, the eldest son, was born in Whitemarsh, and in 1708 married Abigail Heap. The latter was buried in the family ground on the south side of Camp hill, where the stone was erected to her memory, saying that she died May 21, 1753, aged 65 years.

Scull was a land surveyor, and ran the lines for many of the old highways in the neighborhood. In 1731 he removed to Philadelphia, and in February, 1734, was appointed deputy surveyor of the counties of Philadelphia and Bucks. In October, 1744, he was commissioned sheriff of Philadelphia county, which office he held for several years. Through ill health William Parsons resigned the office of surveyor general of Pennsylvania, and on June 14, 1748, Scull was appointed to fill his place, which he continued to hold to the close of his life—a period of thirteen years. Historians simply say that he died at an advanced age about the beginning of November, 1761.

Ample provision was made for the maintenance of the little cemetery, and overtures for its purchase have been repeatedly ignored. There is every possibility of its remaining for many years to come upon the beautiful hill slope of the Van Rensselaer estate.

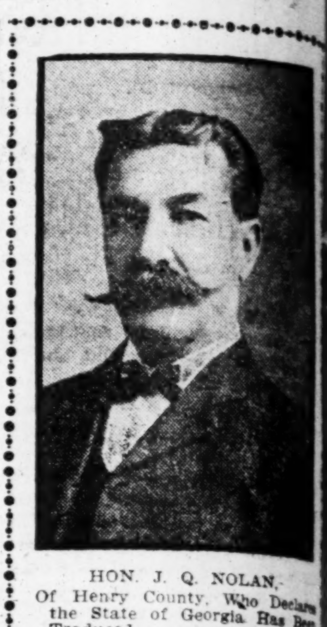
TRADUCERS OF STATE CRITICISED BY NOLAN



HON. J. Q. NOLAN, Of Henry County, Who Declares the State of Georgia Has Been Traduced.

In a speech made on the floor of the house yesterday by Hon. J. Q. Nolan, representative from Henry county, on the subject of the anti-pass bill, Mr. Nolan took occasion to criticise those who have bought to make it appear that Georgia is a state of graft and corruption.

Speaking on this line, Mr. Nolan said in part:

"My cheeks have tinged with shame during the last few years when charges have been brought against my state nad her public officials. These accusers have pointed their finger of scorn and denounced our officials as guilty of theft, of being bribed and of various kinds of corruption, until a former legislature appointed a committee and made an appropriation for the purpose of investigating the public officials and institutions of our state. But, gentlemen, they found nothing wrong. No impeachment proceedings have been instituted, no charges have been preferred, and the records of the state and her officers were found absolutely pure and untarnished.

"And yet it is enough to make any true Georgia hang his head with shame to find his proud and pure old state with a civilization as noble and grand as ever stepped beneath the stars or enjoyed the glories of God's sunlight, blacklisted among the states of this republic—a disgrace that should be denounced and resented. Yes, it is enough to insult the pride of any Georgian, and the people are growing tired of the false charges of those accusers and tradu which have sought to make our magn cent old commonwealth not only a s but a black spot upon the escutchen American civilization."

STATE PRESS COMMENT ON GUBERNATORIAL RACE

For Revenue Only Reformers.

(From The Sparks Advertiser.)

The reformer is never one of the "ins." When he gets in, if he ever does, he forgets his dreams of reform and proceeds just like other boys.

Has People's Confidence.

(From The Macon County Citizen.)

Hon. Clark Howell is just as good a reformer as the people want. They know his record, and will not stand for the insinuations hatched up and spread broadcast by those who would defeat him by appealing to their prejudices.

Maligning the Governor.

(From The Albany Herald.)

It is now plainly implied, if not directly charged by Hoke Smith and The Atlanta Journal, that Governor Terrell belongs, hoof and horn, to the railroads and is consulting their interests in all his official acts.

Does Hoke Smith Sell Whisky?

(From The Calhoun Times.)

Much is being said in the press of the state about Hon. Hoke Smith's relation to the bar room of the Piedmont hotel.

It is said that the Piedmont, of which Mr. Smith is one-third owner, is run by its owners—that they hire the manager on a salary and conduct the hotel and all of its branches directly themselves through this salaried manager. It is further said that one-third of the profits from the bar room going to Mr. Smith last year amounted to something like $15,000. So far neither Mr. Smith nor his friends have denied these statements.

The announcement will be received with painful surprise by many people in Georgia who have always regarded Mr. Smith as a Christian gentleman whose life and ideals were above reproach. He is well known as a prominent church worker and has been generally regarded as a staunch friend of prohibition. Nobody ever thought of him as a partner in the whisky business, and many good people will be slow to believe that he is part owner in a saloon. But, as we said, so far the statements to that effect have not been denied.

If Mr. Smith is part owner of a saloon and receives profits from it he stands on the same plane with the common liquor dealer of Decatur street, but if he has no financial interest in any bar room and receives no revenue in any way from the sale of whisky, then he owes it to the sober and orderly people of the state to enter at once an emphatic denial of the charge.

Unpleasant and Unsavory Reality.

(From The Columbus Ledger.)

There are some juxtapositions both in ancient and modern history in which we truly believed that the voice of the people was the voice of God. But the reverence that attaches to this motto requires it to rest on a very sure footing, and where the cause and the motive could be equaled sanctified by its imposing application. If Mr. Smith thinks he has come forth from the privacy of home and from the inner sanctuaries of his profession, in obedience to some mysterious and psychological power, which he has christened "a divine call," its emanation from on high a source cannot fail to be seriously questioned in the charge made that Mr. Spencer, of the Southern Railway Company, went on his $50,000 note in order to rescue The Atlanta Journal from its financial troubles. After this—and on account of this—will be considered terms of equal meaning—if The Journal did, coincidentally, with this large financial transaction change its grim-visaged countenance toward the railroads of Georgia. As a historical incident it is calculated to distrust the equanimity with which Mr. Smith, supported by The Journal, can expect to make good his present avowed anti-railroad policy, in case he should outrun Mr. Howell for the governor ship of Georgia.

The disagreeable manner in which The Constitution is flaunting this $50,000 note at Mr. Smith and The Journal would seem to indicate that their hairy covering is uncomfortably short on the sensitive spot, where they are being so unmercifully prodded by it. "The divine call" which Mr. Smith claimed to be inspirational in his Madison speech is turning out to be an anachronism, but the $50,000 note seems to be very present, down-to-date, unpleasant and undeniable unsavory reality.

A Grand Old State, Still.

(From The Columbus Ledger.)

If you wish to live in a state where graft is unknown, come to or stay in Georgia. Even if The Journal and Hoke Smith do try to make you think it is boodle-ridden.

As to Special Trains.

(From The Tattnall Journal.)

Every one who knows anything about railroads know that they do not like to run special trains for any purpose, for special trains do not pay. Hence the refusal of railroads to run a special train to Madison means nothing. Only last week Mr. D. M. Bradley, president of the Reidsville and Southeastern railway, was asked to run a special train to Glennville Sunday, but the request was refused. The reason given was that the road did not believe in Sunday excursions. Of course there was disappointment, then, no one felt that Mr. Bradley, his road, was trying to do Reidsville any of her citizens an injustice by fusing to run a special train last day.

But They've No Newspaper "Soak."

(From The Telfair Enterprise)

The people have a right an explanation on this matter, and are not wiling to wait for Clark el to meet Hoke Smith face to face the stump. They want a statement And that Greater Georgia Associa matter, in which The Constitu charges Hoke with making a rail ringster's denial of railroad medd and manipulations in politics and legis tion. HALL WOULD INCREASE PER DIEM OF MEMBERS

Thinks Pay Should be Increased From $4 to $10 Per Day.

A DAY OF FILIBUSTERING ON ANTI-PASS BILL

Opponents of Measure Tried Every Means of Preventing Its Going to a Vote—It Is Now Under Discussion in Committee of Whole House.

Another day of filibustering tactics was the record of the house of representatives yesterday in dealing with the anti-free pass bill by Mr. Hall, of Bibb.

The opposition to the bill, led by Mr. Anderson, of Chatham, made every effort to defeat the bill by delays of various sorts, but every motion intended to postpone consideration of it to some later date was defeated, and finally seeing the friends of the bill were bent on bringing it to a discussion and a vote, they secured a reference of the measure to the committee of the whole house, where unlimited discussion upon it may be had.

None of the votes taken yesterday accurately illustrated the strength of the two sides on this measure, because many friends of the bill voted to refer it to the committee of the whole. The vote, which refused to permit of a postponement to the last day of the session, perhaps, came nearest to showing the strength of the measure, that being 108 to 44. Yet a number who are opposed to the bill voted against this motion in the interest of fairness to the other side.

The indications are that the measure will have more than a constitutional majority when a vote is taken before a full house.

The feature of the debate yesterday was the statement from Mr. Hall that he thought the members of the general assembly ought to have higher salaries. He stated he thought the per diem should be increased from $4 to $10. He was willing, therefore, to amend the bill so that it would not become effective until after a constitutional amendment increasing the pay of the members of the house and senate shall have been submitted to the people.

The house adjourned at 1 o'clock with the bill still under debate in committee of the whole. It will come up as unfinished business today.

Wanted To Extend Session.

The first fight came when the anti-pass bill was taken up on a motion by Mr. Hall, of Bibb, that the session be extended until the measure could be finally disposed of. The adoption of this motion, he said, would not necessarily extend the sessions beyond the adjournment hour, as the house could take a recess at any time it saw fit, and the only object of the motion was to keep the bill before the house until final action could be taken.

This motion was opposed by Mr. Anderson, of Chatham, on the ground that it was unnecessary. He wanted fair play, he said, and criticised the supporters of the bill for trying to cut off debate the day before.

"The advocates of this bill have never attempted to cut off debate on the merits of the measure," asserted Mr. Hall. "Let the bill come up for discussion on its merits, and I promise that no member of the majority will call the previous question. You members of the minority may filibuster all you choose, but let us have a fair discussion and a fair vote."

Mr. Calvin, of Richmond, an opponent of the bill, denied that he was in the minority.

"If you think you are in the majority why don't you let the bill come to a vote and defeat it?" asked Mr. Hall amid applause from the supporters of the measure.

The real object of Mr. Hall's motion was to save the time of the house, declared Mr. Mitchell, of Thomas. The bill was an important one and should be allowed to come to a vote.

Mr. George, of Morgan, also favored the Hall motion and in reply to Mr. Calvin, denied that the measure was a reflection in any sense upon the integrity of the members of this or any other legislature.

Mr. Anderson, of Chatham, declared that a continuous session of the house would interfere with important committee work in the afternoon.

Mr. McMichael, of Marion, called the previous question and a yea and nay vote was taken with the result that the Hall motion to extend the session was lost by a vote of 80 to 68.

Efforts To Postpone It.

Thereupon Mr. Calvin withdrew his motion to indefinitely postpone, made the day before, and Mr. Donalson, of Decatur, moved to postpone consideration of the bill to July 27.

"That's on Sunday," declared Mr. Hall, "and just shows what sort of good faith the members of the minority have."

Despite the noise of conversation and turmoil, Speaker Slaton managed to keep order, threatening to exclude visitors from the hall unless quiet was restored.

Mr. Hall later admitted he had been mistaken and that July 27 was Thursday instead of Sunday.

Mr. Land, of Wilcox, wanted to postpone the bill until August 11 and Mr. Butts, of Glynn, offered an amendment to postpone it until August 18, which is the last day of the session.

Mr. Butts' amendment was lost on yea and nay vote by 108 to 44, and the motions of Messrs. Land and Donalson were then voted down on viva voce vote.

HON. E. H. McMICHAEL,
Of Marion County, Who Took Part in the Debate Upon the Anti-Pass Bill Yesterday.

To Committee of the Whole.

Mr. Calvin, of Richmond, then moved that the anti-pass bill be referred to the committee of the whole house, and the yeas and nays were called.

Mr. Anderson, of Chatham, explained his vote in favor of the motion by saying he was in favor of a full and fair discussion on both sides, and did not want the opposition to be cut off without a hearing. Mr. Calvin, of Richmond, gave a similar explanation of his vote in favor of the committee of the whole. Mr. George, of Morgan, voted no, because he thought every member had made up his mind, and discussion would only consume time unnecessarily. Mr. Persons, of Talbot, voted against the motion for similar reasons. Mr. Land, of Wilcox, said he voted for it because he wanted a full and fair discussion.

The Calvin motion was finally carried and the house went into committee of the whole on the bill with Mr. Felder, of Bibb, in the chair.

Following the reading of the main bill, the Perry substitute was read. This measure prohibits the issuance of free passes and frank to anyone except corporation employees.

To Increase Per Diem.

Mr. Hall then offered an amendment to the bill, providing that it should not go into effect until January 1, 1907. In connection with this amendment which Mr. Hall stated he had offered in good faith, he made the important declaration that he believed the salaries of members of the general assembly should be increased, and his object in offering the amendment was to give time for the peopel to pass on a constitutional amendment increasing these salaries.

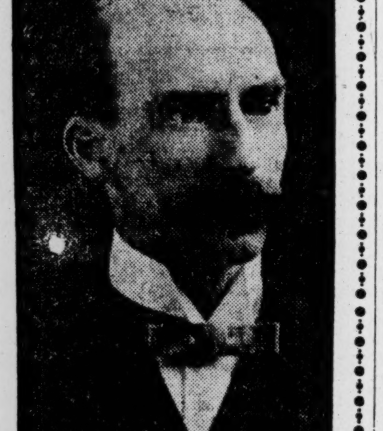
"How much do you think the members of the general assembly ought to receive?" asked Mr. Rose, of Upson.

"Personally I think their per diem should be $10," Mr. Hall stated, "and I believe the people will adopt an amendment increasing the present per diem of the members. This amendment which I have offered will give time for the submission to the people of a constitutional amendment increasing the salaries of members of the general assembly, before the bill goes into effect. If they adopt the constitutional amendment, it will show they favor this bill; if they do not, the next legislature can repeal the bill almost as soon as it goes into effect."

Mr. Flynt, of Spalding, urged the Hall motion as the proper solution of the whole question

State Has Been Traduced.

Mr. Nolan, of Henry, in speaking against the bill and amendments, said he considered it not only a reflection upon the present officials, but also upon the dead, including Georgia's greatest statesmen, many of whom made use of these courtesies.



HON. J. R. ANDERSON,
Of Chatham County, Who Took Part in the Discussion Upon the Anti-Pass Bill Yesterday.

Mr. Nolan said his cheeks had tinged with shame when he learned that the state of Georgia had been published abroad as corrupt and as a state of graft. He declared that the state had been traduced by those who sought to make it appear that the government of Georgia was a corrupt one. A stain had thus been put upon the escutcheon of Georgia's civilization, Mr. Nolan asserted. As a matter of fact no state had purer or better laws, and nowhere are they better administered.

Judge Akin Returned Pass.

In opposing the bill, Mr. Anderson, of Chatham said he wanted every one to know just where he stood. He said he was attorney for a large railroad corporation and president of a small one. Notwithstanding this he asserted that he spoke as an individual and as a citizen of Georgia who had been elected by his people voluntarily, and they knew exactly where he stood. Mr. Anderson spoke of having sent an annual pass to Hon. John W. Akin, of Bartow, which Judge Akin returned to him accompanied by a letter stating his reasons against the use of free passes. Mr. Anderson read his reply to Judge Akin, expressing regret under the circumstances that he had sent him the pass. The letter also stated Mr. Anderson's views on the pass question.

Mr. Perry, of Hall, in opposing the amendment fixing January 1, 1907, as the time for the bill to go into effect, urged his substitute on the ground that in the interests of the people, free passes and franks should be taken from every one not entitled to them, and those entitled to them are only employees of such corporations.

Mr. Covington's Views.

Mr. Covington, of Colquitt, who is a strong supporter of the bill, made an impressive speech, in which he said the state had assumed to regulate the rate of passenger fares in Georgia. As long as free passes were allowed ot be issued, he said, they took just so much money out of the treasuries of the railroad companies, and to that extent prevent any reduction in the railroad fares. He thought a strong bill on the subject should be passed. In his speech Mr. Covington made the statement that he thought Georgia now had a "reasonably good" railroad commission.

Mr. Saffold, of Emanuel, followed Mr. Covington and spoke in opposition to the bill. He considered it was a reflection upon the integrity of all those who were involved under its terms. During his speech Mr. Saffold said if his constituents would forgive him, he would never come to the legislatre again.

"That will all wear off," Mr. Bush, of Miller, interrupted.

The committee of the whole then arose and reported progress. The house adjourned at 1 o'clock. The anti-pass bill will come up again as unfinished business at today's session.

Blackburn's Patrol Bill.

The committe on corporations made a favorable report to the house yesterday on the police patrol bill by Mr. Blackburn, of Fulton. This bill provides for the establishment of a regular police constabulary in each militia district of the state.

Mr. Bell, of Fulton, introduced a resolution providing that the child labor bill, which was favorably reported by the committee on labor and labor statistics, be made the continuing special order for Tuesday, July 25. The resolution was referred to the committe on rules.

Messrs. Martin, of Elbert, and McMullen, of Hart, introduced a resolution memoralizing congress to improve the roads of the country. It was referred to the committee on general agriculture.

BIENNIAL BILL IN THE SENATE

Steed Wants the Constitution Amended to Change Meetings.

The Bill in Reference To Handling Freight on Sunday Causes Lively Debate in the Senate—Other Measures of Importance Presented Yesterday.

Senator Steed introduced in the senate yesterday his measure providing for a constitutional amendment to the effect that the general assembly of the state of Georgia shall hold biennial instead of annual sessions.

Senator Steed's measure provides also that the sessions shall continue for seventy-five instead of fifty days, as the present law provides.

The difference between Senator Steed's bill and the measure introduced in the house providing for biennial sesions is that his calls for a constitutional amendment, while the other bill only provides for a statutory amendment. Senator Steed says the constitution fixes the time of meeting of the general assembly, and if this time is changed the fundamental law of the state must be amended.

Speaking of the bill, at the close of the session yesterday, Senator Steed said that if the measure passes the general assembly and goes before the people for ratification that he has not the shadow of a doubt that they will strongly and overwhelmingly indorse it, as he believes the public sentiment of the state favors the proposition to meet every two years instead of every year.

Sunday Freight Trains.

What came near being a lively discussion was precipitated in the senate yesterday when the committee on railroads reported favorably on Senator Hand's bill relating to the handling of perishable freight by the railroads.

The bill was reported by substitute and provides that railroads be permitted to make up a sufficient train to justify their moving on Sunday when they have perishable freight to handle, and that not more than one train on Sunday shall be handled on each line. The bill further provides that the railroads shall be required to take up perishable freight along stations en route, but shall drop a car of non-perishable freight when taking on one of perishable material.

Upon the reading of the bill for the third time Senator Candler immediately objected to the provision permitting the carrying of any other than perishable freight, saying that it meant the breaking down of the established laws against the moving of freight trains on the Sabbath day.

Senator Hand contended that as the law now stands the moral law is broken as much as if the railroads were permitted to carry more than perishable freight. He said the trains were permitted to move if perishable freight was to be transported, and that the mere matter of more cars would not effect the moral law.

He stated that the bill provided that no non-perishable freight should be handled if there was a sufficient number of cars of perishable freight to make up a train.

There were, however, but a small number of senators in the chamber, and Senator Hand moved the temporary tabling of the bill, which was carried.

While the house yesterday was at the heighth of the discussion of the anti-pass bill, Senator Wheatley moved that the senate take a recess of fifteen minutes, so that this discussion might be heard. Senator Candler objected to this as he contended it would be setting a precedent. The motion was lost. Senator Fitzgerald then wanted the senate to extend Mr. Wheatley the privilege of absenting himself from the chamber that he might hear the discussion.

President Pro Tem. Bond, assisted by Senator Miller, presided over the senate yesterday in the absence of President West.

Senator Hand presented each of the newspaper men with a basket of Ives grapes yesterday.

In executive session yesterday, the senate confirmed the appointments transmitted by the governor the day before.

New Bills.

The folowing new bills were introduced in the senate yesterday:

By Senator Copeland—A bill to amend section 2347 of the code of 1895 to confer right of eminent domain upon telegraph and telephone companies.

By Senator Hamby—A bill to provide for paying pensions to confederate soldiers and widows who were bona fide residents of the state January 1, 1905.

By Senator Steed—A bill to provide for the holding of biennial sessions of the general assembly.

By Senator Lumsden—A bill to lay out and organize new county of Crisp from the county of Dooly.

By Senator Foster (by request)—A bill to provide for the new county of Kell from the counties of Tattnall and Liberty.

NEW COUNTY OF TURNER PRESENTS HER CLAIMS

Proposes to Take Small Parts of Four Large Counties—Other New Counties to be Heard From. Work of Legislative Committees.

"Turner" county was the first case on the docket yesterday before the house and senate committees on new counties.

Owing to the large attendance on these committee meetings, the committee room on the top floor of the capitol had to be given up, and the meeting was held in the senate chamber, which was crowded to the doors by new county delegations, and many sat in the gallery.

Judge Lawton Miller, of Macon, appeared as counsel for those interested in and urging the creation of the new county of "Turner." He called attention to the fact that Turner county stands on a different footing from many of the other applicants, in that it proposes to take comparatively small portions from four large counties, namely, Dooly, Wilcox, Irwin and Worth. These four counties contain 2,700 square miles and 92,000 people.

Judge Miller presented considerable statistical evidence as to area, taxable property and population, and filed with the committee petitions which, he stated, were signed by more than 90 per cent of the citizens and property owners in the district to be affected, urging that "Turner" county be created.

It was proposed to make Ashburn, in Worth county, the county seat of the new county, as this town is located near the center of the territory of which it is proposed to create the new county.

Witnesses Are Heard.

Frank Wardlaw, of Dooly; Frank H. Taylor, county school commissioner of Wilcox; H. W. Bussey, of Irwin, and J. L. Bass, of Ashburn, Worth county, were presented as witnesses from the territory to be affected in the counties named. Each of these men had circulated petitions in their respective sections, and each testified that the white citizens of the territory to be affected were practically unanimous in favor of the establishment of "Turner" county. Everybody living in Turner county wanted it created, they said.

Secretary W. A. Hawkins, of the Turner county organization, who lives at Ashburn, made a statement relative to the various statistical features. He has done some hard work in behalf of Turner. The proposed new county would have an area of 357½ square miles, population of 13,000 and taxable property of more than $1,300,000.

Opposition from Irwin.

Judge Spencer R. Atkinson, representing Irwin county, opened the opposition to Turner county in behalf of his client. The people of Irwin were opposed to giving up this valuable section of their territory. He called Judge Clements, of Irwin county, as a witness. Judge Clements said he had seen at least 75 white citizens of the portion of Irwin to be affected, all of whom were opposed to Turner county.

Thomas Y. Fletcher, of Irwin, testified along the same lines. He had circulated a petition against Turner county in the section in question, and none of those approached refused to sign it. Only those living near Ashburn wanted to go into the new county, he said.

W. J. Clements, of Irwin county, was introduced by Judge Atkinson, and said the sentiment of the people in his section was in favor of remaining in the old county of Irwin. The change of sentiment was due to the fact that they did not want the expense of building the court house and jail.

Wilcox Also Objects.

B. H. Bankston, of Abbeville, and D. B. Nicholson, an attorney of Rochelle, made statements in behalf of Wilcox county in opposition to taking any territory from Wilcox for Turner county. They stated the people were opposed to the movement, and, moreover, Wilcox had a bonded debt of $40,000, and there was no provision made for the people seeking to leave the county paying their share of this debt.

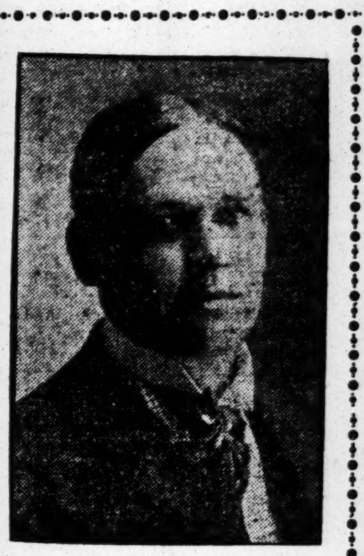
Judge U. V. Whipple and Mr. Bivins, of Cordele, presented the opposition of that section of Dooly which wants to be Crisp to the creation of Turner. Judge Whipple said he was not opposing any new county plan, but, so far as the territory of Dooly was concerned, he said Crisp county should be given first consideration.

Senator D. A. R. Crum, of the thirteenth who lives in Cordele, and who is opposing "Crisp" county, made a brief statement, in which he said Dooly was willing to give up the small piece of territory that would be asked for Turner county.

Worth County's Attitude.

Representative Alford, of Worth county, spoke in opposition to the amount of territory wanted by Turner county. Two-thirds of the people of Worth, he declared, were opposed to the taking of their territory for the creation of new counties.

J. H. Tipton, of Sylvester, chairman of Worth's county commissioners, said he came not to fight any of the new county movements, as they wanted all of the new counties in south Georgia. But Worth was merely fighting back the proposed lines so that they would not take too much of the present county's territory.



JUDGE MAX E. LAND,
Of Wilcox, Who Took Part in the Debate Upon the Anti-Pass Bill Yesterday.

Judge Miller in concluding for the advocates of Turner county said they were willing to make any reasonable concessions with regard to the proposed new county lines. He made a statement regarding the establishment of new counties since the beginning of the state government, and said, in spite of the fact that the population of the state had increased more than 1,200,000 since 1875, no new county had been created since that year, when Oconee county was the last one established. Judge Miller said drawing a line through the center of the state, the northern part of Georgia had 75 counties and 25,000 square miles of territory, while the southern part had only 62 counties with 33,000 square miles.

Dixie county, with Miller as the county site, will be the next one heard from.

"Atkinson" County.

A bill will be introduced in the general assembly in the next day or two providing for the creation of "Atkinson" county from parts of the counties of Pierce, Ware and Appling. The new county will have a strong backing, it is said, among those favoring it being Hon. John W. Bennett, of Waycross, solicitor general of the Brunswick circuit.

"We propose to create a new county from one of the richest sections of the state," said Mr. Bennett, who was in the city yesterday, "and to name it in honor of the late Governor W. Y. Atkinson, who was highly esteemed and beloved by the people of our section. If created, as we hope it will be, 'Atkinson' county will have an area greater than many of the counties now in the state. It will have a population of more than 8,000 and its taxable property will amount to considerably more than $1,000,000."

Mr. Bennett, who is one of the trustees of the State university, came up to Atlanta on university business, and was with the trustees when they appeared before the house and sanate appropriations committees, to present the claims of that institution.

The County of "Kell."

And still they come. Another new county bill was introduced in the senate yesterday by Senator James L. Foster, of the second district, providing for the creation of a new county to be known as "Kell" county and to be made up of parts of Tattnall and Liberty counties, with Glenville as the county site.

It is proposed to name the new county in honor of the late General John McIntosh Kell, a veteran of the confederate navy and for many years adjutant general of Georgia.

The county line of the proposed new county begins at Sheffield's ferry, on the Ohoopee river, and runs in a straight line to Moon's bridge, on the Canoochee river, thence down the Canoochee river to Wamill's bridge, thence down the public road to Bogg's old mill, taking the public road from there to the Rye Patch, thence running along the public road from Glenville to Liberty City, then running in a straight line to the Altamaha river at Yankee Reach, thence up the Altamaha river to the mouth of the Ohoopee, thence up the Ohoopee to the starting point.

Hon. William Clifton, of McIntosh county, is in the city with others to oppose the creation of this county.

As to Clemson College.

Chancellor Walter B. Hill, of the University of Georgia, has written the following card correcting a statement about his refernce to Clemson college, in South Carolina, before the legislative committees on Tuesday afternoon:

"Editor Constitution: I regret that I so far failed to make clear the meaning of my reference to Clemson college in my address yesterday as to have caused your excellent reporter to quote me as saying that that fine institution was in any sense a 'failure.' I have no time, as I am leaving the city, to repeat here fully what I intended to say, but the point will perhaps be sufficiently brought out if I say that 'Clemson Agricultural college' (such is its title) is really the school of technology in South Carolina plus an agricultural department, and its large enrollment of students is principally in the technology work, and it has been alleged in that state that these courses have attracted the young men away from the agricultural course. No, Clemson is not a failure. It is presided over by a graduate of the Georgia State College of Agriculture and Mechanical Arts, President P. H. Mell, a Georgian and a well equipped scholar and able administrator. Very respectfully,

"WALTER B. HILL.

Australian Ballot Bill.

The house committee on privileges and elections, of which Mr. Russell, of Muscogee, is chairman, held a meeting yesterday afternoon and organized for business.

No bills were taken up at this meeting, but the committee decided to meet and consider the Australian ballot bill by Dr. T. J. M. Kelly, of Glascock, this morning at 8 o'clock. The committee proposes to complete the consideration of this bill and report it to the house at the earliest possible moment.

The house last year passed Dr. Kelly's Australian ballot bill by a good majority, and it was most favorably considered by the senate, but it failed there because of differences that arose over certain proposed amendments just at the close of the session. Dr. Kelly's greatest legislative ambition is to secure the passage of this ballot bill, and he has stated, once he gets this bill on the statute books, he will stay away from the egislature in future.

Confederate Memorial Board.

The second report of the confederate memorial board, created under resolution of the general assembly, of which Captain W. D. Ellis is chairman, was placed on the desks of members of the house and senate in printed pamphlet form yesterday.

The board was created to investigate and report on the matter of the state taking control of and caring for the various confederate cemeteries and burial grounds throughout the state.

The board has made careful investigation of the various confederate cemeteries located at Canton, Cassville, Dalton, Kingston, Resaca, Americus, Atlanta, Calhoun, Columbus, Covington, Forsyth, Greenesboro, LaGrange and Marietta, and recommends that the legislature make an aggregate appropriation of $9,750 for the purpose of putting all of these confederate cemeteries in good condition, the amounts to be expended by the board under direction of the governor.

In concluding its recommendations, the memorial board says:

"We recommend that the comptroller general of this state, himself a distinguished ex-confederate soldier, be made ex-officio a member of this board. We also recommend that the board have authority to employ a proper agent to put this work into practical execution, under its direction and control. We beg to remind your excellency and the general assembly that the labors of this board are rendered without compensation and that to carry this work into practical effect, that is to say, to go upon the grounds at each locality to direct the work and supervise it, so as to accomplish good and substantial results as cheaply as possible, would take all the time of any one man. We would also recommend that the act of the legislature to be so drawn as to permit the board, in its discretion, to do some work at places other than those named, if it shall be found in their discretion necessary and proper.

"While the state can not undertake to care for the graves of individual soldiers, not buried in the public cemeteries, yet there are some instances in which a little expenditure would rescue the graves of brave men from absolute neglect and oblivion."

General Tax Act Is Up.

The general tax act was up before the committee on ways and means yesterday afternoon, but owing to the length of the measure no final action was taken. More than forty sections were read, and of these only two were held up for further consideration, the others passing.

The section affecting packing houses, and also the section affecting sewing machine agents, were held up for consideration at the next meeting, as it was announced that there were parties who wished to appear before the committee in regard to these two sections before final action was taken.

Uniform Banking Law.

The negotiable instrument law was up for consideration before the house committee on banks and banking yesterday afternoon. After hearing from a number of bankers favorable to the measure, it was decided to defer further action till the next regular meeting of the committee.

Among the gentlemen who appeared before the committee yesterday afternoon were President Orme, of the Georgia Bankers' Association; Frank Hardwick, of Dalton; John D. Walker, of Sparta; J. K. Ottley, of Atlanta; R. F. Maddox, of Atlanta; P. W. Meldrim, of Savannah, and other well-known Georgians.

The negotiable instrument law is a general act relating to negotiable papers prepared at the direction of the conference of commissioners on uniformity of laws. The law is the same that has been passed by Connecticut, Colorado, Florida, New York, Massachusetts, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, District of Columbia, Wisconsin, Tennessee Oregon, Washington, Utah, Rhode Island, North Dakota, Arizona, Iowa, New Jersey, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Montana, Idaho, Kentucky and Louisiana.

It is believed that the measure will be passed by the present general assembly, as it appears that the bankers of the state are uniform in their indorsement of the measure.

To the General Assembly.

THE executive mansion presented a brilliant appearance last evening, the occasion being the reception tendered by Governor and Mrs. Terrell to the members of the general assembly. To meet them several hundred of Atlanta's most prominent people were invited, and calling between the hours of 8 and 11 o'clock were delightfully entertained.

The mansion was brightly illuminated without and within, fairy lamps hanging from the trees and making the lawn a place of gathering for many of the guests.

Within the decorations in green and white were charming, palms used in the hallway their luxurious foliage reflected in the mirror at the end of the apartment, and extending in appearance the size and decoration effect of the hall.

In the library, where Miss Claudia Patterson and Miss Eloise Landrum served punch the decorations were of ferns and bowls and vases of exquisite garden flowers.

In the dining room, where dainty refreshments were served buffet style, the decorations were in white and green. The mantel and cabinets were banked in ferns, through the foliage of which showed clusters of white roses and carnations.

The circular table had its centerpiece of white roses in an elevated plateau, bordered with ferns.

About it, star-shaped, were placed silver candlesticks, with shades of green and silver, and the ices and bonbons were all in white and green.

Governor and Mrs. Terrell, Senator and Mrs. West, and Mr. and Mrs. John M. Slaton received the guests in the blue room, where the decorations continued in an artistic arrangement of green and white clusters of white roses prevailing.

Mrs. Terrell wore an elegant toilet in white chiffon cloth and lace, and carried a bouquet of white flowers. She received the guests with that dignity, cordiality and gracious charm so characteristic of her, and was the center of admiration the entire evening.

Mrs. West and Mrs. Slaton were handsomely gowned in white, also Misses Landrum and Patterson, who assisted in the entertainment of the guests.

To Miss Lewis.

AN IDEAL summer party was that given last evening by Mr. and Mrs. James Narren English, Jr., complimentary to Miss Pauline Lewis, of Montezuma, the guest of Miss Catherine Gholstin.

Ninety guests were assembled, and the entertainment was in the nature of a buffet supper, served on the loggia and in the Italian garden in the rear of the palatial home.

The loggia with its bamboo furnishings, hanging baskets and lamps, was where Mr. and Mrs. English received their guests, who later were to be seen in groups, under the soft lights thrown out by the fancy lamps in the garden. These hung between the columns and near the fountain, refreshing in its beauty, and the atmosphere of coolness produced by it.

The lovely young women, in their light and airy toilets, completed a party picturesque and delightful.

Mrs. English was beautiful in a summer evening gown of white net and Irish lace.

Miss Lewis, the lovely guest of honor, wore white point net and lace, and her charming hostess, Miss Gholstin, wore white net spangled in silver.

BETTER SERVICE IS PROMISED

President Arkwright Replies to Mayor's Letter of Criticism.

President Arkwright, of the Georgia Railway and Electric company, yesterday sent his reply to the letter from Mayor Woodward criticizing the recent tieup of the street cars and attendant darkness in much of the city. In this reply the blame for the whole trouble is placed on the Atlanta Water and Electric Power company.

President Arkwright calls attention to the fact that prior to January 1 of this year, the services rendered by his company had at all times been satisfactory, and says that when the Georgia Railway and Electric company entered into its contract with the concern which now supplies it with power that there was no reason to expect that power to fail as it has at times recently.

He assures the mayor that he will do everything in his power to prevent a recurrence of the trouble of this week. His reply in full was as follows:

"Hon. J. G. Woodward, Mayor Atlanta, Ga.:

"Dear Sir—Your letter of July 18th with reference to stoppage of cars and lights has been received.

"It is certainly our desire to give the city of Atlanta and the public the best service possible in both the street railway and electric lighting. We have put forth every endeavor possible to this end, and have spared no expense in securing the best equipment that can be obtained for this purpose.

"Prior to January 1, 1905, I do not think there was or could have been any complaint as to the service which we did furnish. Since the first of January, 1895, we have been taking current from the Atlanta Water and Electric Power company from its plant at Bull sluice, on the Chatahoochee river. We own no interest in this company and have no control over its operations. Our relation to it is simply that of a customer, just exactly the same relation as the city of Atlanta bears to us.

"While this company is furnishing us with current, of course, we do not run our steam plants. There should be no reason for running them. We could not anticipate that there would be interruptions in the service of the water power company. When interruptions do occur, however, or when we are notified in advance, or have the slightest grounds for anticipating that interruptions are likely to occur, we proceed at once to put our steam plants in operation.

"On the two occasions to which you refer, namely, July 7th at about 10 o'clock, and July 17th at about 6 o'clock, the service being furnished us by the Atlanta Water and Electric Power company was totally interrupted. We had no previous notice that this was likely to occur, and no ground for anticipating that it might occur. When it did occur, we lost no time in getting our steam plants in operation.

"Of course, I understand that the city of Atlanta and the public have no interest in who is to blame for these interruptions. However, I thought it just to let you know that the interruptions about which you complain are not due to any fault or negligence of this company.

"We have taken the matter up with the Atlanta Water and Electric Power company, and you may be assured that we will do everything possible to provide against a repetition of these interruptions.

"Yours very truly,
"P. S. ARKWRIGHT, President.
"July 18, 1905."

FUNSTON FINED FOR "TOTING" GUN

Ex-Congressman and Father of General in Court

Funston Warns the Court That the Law Against Whisky Selling in Kansas Is Going To Be Rigidly Enforced Hereafter.

Iola, Kan., July 19.—E. H. Funston, former congressman from this district, and father of General Frederick Funston, was today in police court found guilty of disturbing the peace and with having carried concealed weapons.

He was fined $5 on each charge and the costs of the suits were charged against him, making a total of $31.55.

The charges against Mr. Funston grew out of the wrecking by dynamite by a temperance fanatic on July 10 of three Iola "joints" or saloons. The explosion followed an agitation against the saloons in which Governor Hoch was appealed to in an effort to secure the enforcement of the state prohibition law. Intense excitement followed the act of the dynamiter.

During the height of the excitement Mr. Funston, it was charged, had made inflamatory utterances to the crowd that gathered about him on the streets. When Patrolman Cannon tried to persuade Mr. Funston to desist a quarrel between the two ensued and Funston, it was alleged, attempted to draw a revolver. Funston was arrested and formal charge made against him after which he was released on his own recognizance.

In the trial, which was attended by hundreds of persons, one witness testified that Mr. Funston had said:

"I am glad some one had nerve enough to do it. The only regret is that the men (saloonkeepers) weren't there to be blown out of their buildings. If the police officers had done their duty this would not have happened. I have no sorrow in my heart for the men along this street that have suffered loss because they have done business with these men and not put a stop to the saloon business."

The loss caused bythe explosions was estimated at $100,000 and the alleged dynamiter, McKelvin, is still at large, although a warrant has been issued for his arrest and hundreds of men have searched for him.

Judge Adair, in sentencing Mr. Funston, said:

"It is my regret to have been called to render judgment in this matter. While this is not a matter of testimony I wish to state that I have known Mr. Funston ever since I have been in Kansas, that I know him to be an honorable, upright citizen and a man of exemplary character and reputation. I heartily sympathize with his feelings in regard to the 'joint' question. A man who regards his family and children would naturally resent anything that would tend to disgrace or injure them. I do not wish it understood that any judgment I may render intimates that I do not sympathize with the sentiments and feelings of those who believe in the enforcement of the prohibitory law. I have decided the matter, disregarding the standing of the defendant, public sentiment and everything except the law and the evidence."

Continuing, Judge Adair said that the testimony showed that the defendant came to town with guns and bought ammunition, that he made loud utterances before several crowds that gathered about him on the streets.

Mr. Funston said:

"There is not a citizen of Kansas who believes that I am guilty of disturbing the peace. We shall win out in this district court. I have received letters from all over Kansas, expressing sympathy and the belief that I am innocent. The people are waking up. The dynamiting of the Iola saloons was most deplorable, but, at the same time, it will answer a good purpose in stirring up the people of Kansas to action. It will call attention anew to the fact that these same conditions exist in almost every Kansas town. The prohibition law will be enforced. The time is coming soon. We must not leave it to a few preachers and enthusiasts. The bone and sinew, the solid men of the country, must take part. I have faith in Governor Hoch. It is a big question. He is going slow, but he will act and prohibitory law will win."

The Casino.

Vaudeville admirers have found much entertainment in the excellent bill at the Casino this week. It is well founded and its novelty, comedy and sensation has created no end of talk and interest. The attendance has averaged up to the following that always greets a good Casino attraction, and with weather on its side this attraction will have one of the records in figures.

The contribution of the Lawson Brothers has interested a good deal here in the home of Walthour. One of the Lawsons may not be as fast as Bobby on the wheel, but he has the champion beat doing stunts on the wheel. He is a wonder on control and some of his work has never been duplicated.

The other features of the bill are exceptionally good and will surely interest and refresh anybody.

A musical comedy organization crowded with vandeville features will be the Casino attraction for the week that starts on Monday next. This attraction is not an experiment, but one of the cleverest in existence and will be well liked. The Wills Musical Comedy Company in "A Trip to Atlantic City" during the first three days of the week and "Two Old Cronies" the last of the engagement is a magnetic offering.

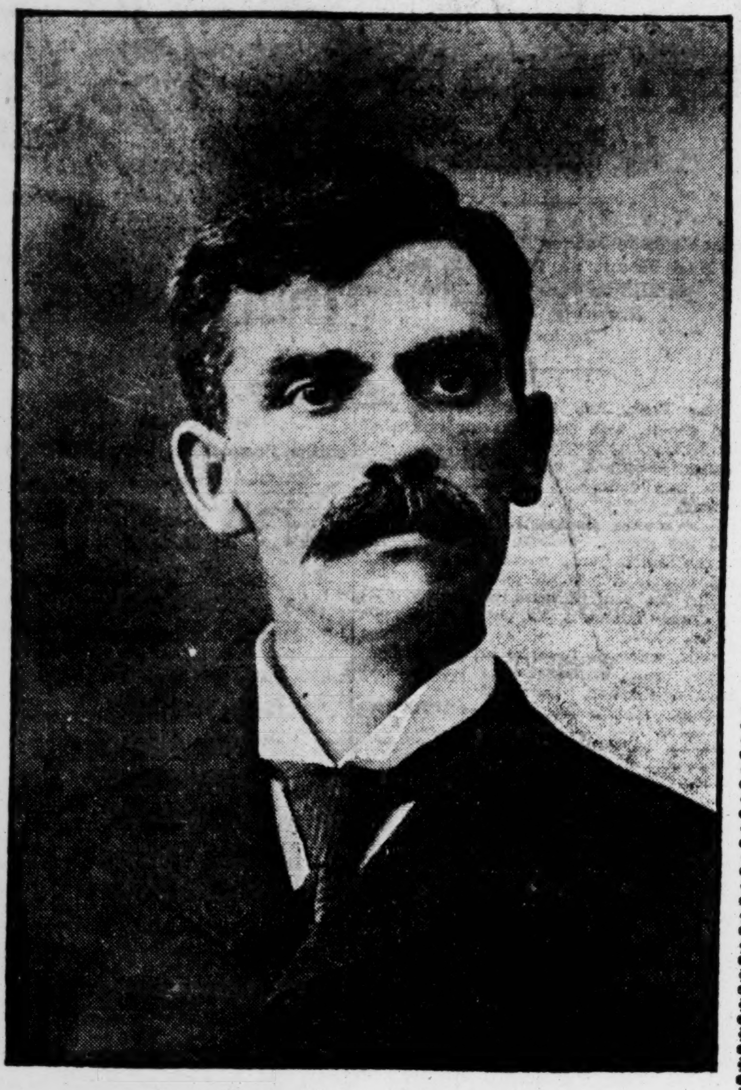
RICHARD CHEATHAM GOES TO NEW FIELD OF LABOR



RICHARD I. CHEATAM,
Who Has Resigned as Assistant General Freight Agent of the Seaboard Air Line To Take Full Charge of the Durham and Southern Railroad.

RICHARD I. CHEATHAM, who has just tendered his resignation as assitant general freight agent of the Seaboard Air Line railroad, to take charge of the Durham and Southern railroad, is one of the best known and most popular railroad men in the south.

Mr. Cheatham came to Atlanta in 1895 as division freight agent, and his rise since that time has been rapid and deserved. He served in the transportation department before his transfer to the traffic department, and is equally familiar with both branches of railroad work. He is regarded as one of the most progressive and most capable railroad men in this section, and his appointment to a wider field of endeavor is no surprise to his friends.

Mr. Cheatham's headquarters will be at Durham, N. C., and his removal from Atlanta will be a distinct loss to the railroad and business worlds of Atlanta. Besides giving efficient and satisfactory service, he has made himself personally popular and has endeared himself to hundreds of friends. He has risen rapidly in the railroad world, and his ability has been given prompt recognition.

Mr. Cheatham will be in full charge of the Durham and Southern railway, now in course of construction and owned by B. N. Duke, who has large interests in the American Tobacco Company, as well as other diversified investments in banking and mill interests in that section of the country. The Durham and Southern traverses a good timber section, as well as an agricultural country. It runs from Durham to Dunn, N. C., tapping the Southern and Norfolk and Western at Durham, the Seaboard Air Line at Apex, the Atlantic Coast Line at Dunn.

Mr. Duke has already constructed and has in operation a 50,000-spindle cotton mill, two or three large lumber plants, and will probably double the capacity of all these industries. All of these institutions are located on the line of the Durham and Southern.

Mr Cheatham has a wide field for greater success before him, and he is carrying with him the well wishes of his Atlanta and Georgia friends.

BRITISH BILL TO BAR ALIENS

Premier Balfour Makes Point Regarding American Immigration Laws.

London, July 19.—In the house of commons today the aliens bill passed its third reading by a majority of 90.

Premier Balfour, in winding up the debate on the bill, contended that the proposed restrictions were less severe than those imposed by any other nation. He referred to the Ameican imigration laws and asked whether any one would assert that the Americans were indifferent to freedom or looked with unmoved eye on the suffering and the oppressed, yet their restrictions as well as the restrictions imposed by the British colonies were, he said, more severe than those imposed by "this moderate and reasonable bill."

The bill prohibits immigrants from landing only after a medical inspection. Immigrants may be refused permission to land if they are unable to show that they are in a position to obtain means to keep themselves decently; if insane, if on account of disease or other causes they are likely to become a charge on the taxpayers, if they have been sentenced abroad for an extraditable crime not of a political nature, or if they have been previously expelled from Great Britain.

The home secretary may order the expulsion of an alien on a certificate from a court of law. The bill, however, provides that an alien shall not be refused permission to land on account of the want of means if able to prove that he or she is seeking admission to Great Britain solely to avoid persecution for political offenses.

HOOKER'S FATE WITH ASSEMBLY

Legislature Will Decide Charges Against Judge Today.

Albany, N. Y., July 19.—The fate of Warren B. Hooker, of Fredonia, so far as concerns his office as a justice of the supreme court in the eighth judicial district, rests now with the members of the two houses of the state legislature, and almost certainly will be decided tomorrow. The joint session dissolved about 6 o'clock tonight, with the close of the argument of counsel for and against his removal. The assembly will meet at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow to take its vote upon the question, the senate will convene at 10 to await the action of the assembly.

The joint session today finally dropped the investigation of the allegation of The New York Press that improper influences had been at work in aid of Justice Hooker.

The formal charge upon which Justice Hooker's removal is asked alleges that he has been "wilfully guilty of corrupt, unlawful and immoral acts," calculated to bring the office of justice of the supreme court into contempt and showing "personal unfitness" for that office.

Final action will be taken upon a concurrent resolution providing for his removal from office.

Don't Give the Alms of Indifference

Help These Children For A Chance To Secure Health, Education and Success.

A band of good Atlanta women are making a strong effort to redeem the children of the Fulton Bag and Cotton Mill from the dwarfing influence of their environment.

A day Nursery has been established.

The mill owners have been most generous in providing a building suitable for the purpose.

The various departments--recreation room, dining room, study room, sleeping room--are partially equipped.

The great need for the inmates is a gymnasium. Many of the children surrendered to the care of the institution are weak physically.

Their bodies must be built up.

Then their minds.

Herbert Spencer said "Health is the basis of success."

Won't YOU help supply the means for developing the little arms, and narrow chests, and drooping shoulders, and spindly legs of these little ones?

A strong mentality and a fine spirituality are easily productive of sound health.

A large, airy hall has been secured for the gymnasium.

Plenty of light, thoroughly ventilated.

But there's no equipment--and no money to buy one.

Send a mite of money to save these mites of humanity.

The women are giving their time and energy to this work.

Thus far the bulk of the financial, and nearly all the moral support, have been contributed by women who are themselves poor.

Let's help.

Send any amount--5c, 10c, 25c, 50c, $1.00, $50.00--as much or as little as you feel like.

Every cent will do more good than you may think.

The need is urgent.

Memphis, Tenn., July 19.—(Special.)—That Arthur Goodwin, the so-called curveless wonder, has returned to the form that enabled him to win almost a third of the Memphis victories in 1904, was demonstrated today to 1,500 Memphians who flocked to Red Elm to watch the final game with the Firecrackers.

Goodwin was master in almost every inning and let Atlanta down with six hits, from which three runs resulted.

The locals, by hammering Moren, accumulated twice as many scores, and nothing but flawless fielding bordering on the sensational kept the runs down. Moren pitched for five innings, allowing twelve hits, totaling nineteen bases, from which resulted all Memphis' runs.

McCay pitched the remaining rounds with practically a clean record, as hits secured by Gannon and Hurlburt were infield miscues of the scratch variety.

Morse, Jordan, Stafford and Archer did much toward keeping defeat within the bounds of respectability by fast fielding. Morse traveled left and right and threw men out at first base, and Jordan did likewise, topping his day's performance by running into right field and gobbling Goodwin's fly, then turning and doubling Hurlburt at first. Stafford took care of everything that came his way and Archer killed three stealers.

A pass to Stafford, Jordan's sacrifice, passes to Morse and McCay and a punk drive that fell at Dungan's feet, enabled Stafford to score the first Atlanta run, but McCay was forced out at second by thinking that Dungan might catch the fly and scoring stopped.

Winters singled in the sixth, Alexander fumbled Crozier's bounder and both tallied on Jordan's crack to right field for two bases. That was the last of Atlanta's scoring.

Gannon, who secured a total of eleven bases yesterday, came back today with four hits, totalling nine bases, which helped materially to make enough runs to beat Atlanta.

ECZEMA

ITCHES AND BURNS

The return of warm weather means a return of torture to Eczema sufferers. The blood is charged with burning acids and acrid matter which is forced to the surface through the pores and glands, forming pustules which discharge a sticky fluid, and the itching is intense.

The doctors said I had pustular Eczema; it would break out in small white pustules, mostly on my face and hands, discharging a sticky fluid; crusts would form and drop off, leaving the skin red and inflamed. I was tormented with the itching and burning characteristic of the disease for five years, and during the time used various medicated soaps, ointments and washes, but these applications seemed to make me worse. After taking S. S. S. a short time I began to improve; the itching did not worry me so much. I continued the medicine, and soon all the ugly eruptions disappeared and my skin is now as clear as anybody's. I have not been troubled with any breaking out since.
Urbana, O. E. E. KELLY.

Sometimes the disease is in the dry form, and bran-like scales form on the skin, but the cause is the same—humors in the blood. Salves, cooling washes, powders and the like can do nothing more than relieve the itching, because they do not reach the acid-laden blood, the seat of the trouble. S. S. S. cures Eczema and all skin diseases by neutralizing the acids and carrying them off through the proper channels. When S. S. S. has done this the symptoms pass away, the blood is cooled and the disease is cured permanently. Nothing acts so promptly or surely in skin diseases as S. S. S., and it at the same time acts as a tonic to the entire system. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice without charge.

AMERICANS WIN EASY MATCHES

Americans Gain Maximum Points Against the Australasians.

London, July 19.—The only interest in the third day's play in the Dwight F. Davis international tennis cup competition was with regard to the possibility of the Americans gaining the maximum points against the Australasians which they did, both William A. Larned and Beals C. Wright winning their matches.

Larned beat Norman E. Brooks, the Australasian champion, three sets to love and Wright accounted for A. F. Wilding by two sets to love. The Australasian players were not expected to play as the Americans had already won three points out of five, proving their right to meet the holders of the cup, but the rules made it necessary for the teams to play out the three days' programme. Wright and Wilding arranged to play the best two out of three sets instead of the best three out of five, and Wright won.

The first set of the match between Larned and Brooke was one more of endurance than a display of brilliant tennis.

After that the game was without feature, except for the regularity with which each won his series. The American won. The second set fell easily to Larned, Brooke showing signs of fatigue. Larned took matters easily in the third set and won without effort.

The American team has improved wonderfully since arriving here, and has established beyond its doubt its right to challenge for the cup.

The Americans have not selected the team for the challenge round which will be played at Wimbleton July 21, 22 and 24, but it is probable that Ward and Wright will play in the doubles and Clothier and Larner in the singles.

After the match the American team will return direct to the United States to take part in the championships there.

They are trying to persuade the Doherty brothers to accompany them.

INSURANCE MEN PUT UP A FIGHT

Appeared Against Bill to Modify Insurance Contracts.

Bill Was Introduced by Mr. Fraser, of Liberty, and Seeks To Make Warranties in Contract But Promises Instead of Absolute Guarantees.

The only matter before the general judiciary committee yesterday afternoon was the bill introduced by Mr. Fraser, of Liberty, intended to modify and change the present law in regard to insurance contracts.

The bill is intended to make it more difficult for an insurance company to avoid the payment of claims.

Attorney Alex King, of Atlanta, opened the argument before the committee against the measure. He called attention to the fact that the new law would materially increase the risk of the insurance company and would, therefore, materially increase the rate of insurance in the state—especially fire insurance.

He also called attention to the fact that the bill would materially change the whole law of contracts in the state. He said that he thought that there was no need for a change, as the insurance companies were only contesting 1-2 of 1 per cent of their insurance—an exceedingly small percentage and one which certainly did not justify a new law.

The second speaker was Mr. Levy, of Columbus. He said he spoke in the interests of the farmers. He said if the law did not result in the insurance companies withdrawing country insurance entirely, it would at least make the rate so high as to be out of reach to the average farmer. He said certain clauses in the measures were absolutely absurd.

Protest from Savannah.

The chamber of commerce of Savannah had a committee consisting of Ben J. Apple and W. F. Train to appear before the committee urging that the bill be not passed. The chamber also wired its representatives from Savannah to oppose the bill with all possible strength.

Both Mr. Apple and Mr. Train made brief addresses outlining their ideas as to why the bill should not be favorably recommended.

Mr. Apple said his main objection to the measure was that it took away the insurance companies warranties and substituted therefor the promise of the holder. This he said would be utterly unsatisfactory.

Morris Brandon, representing the Atlanta-Birmingham Fire Insurance Company, said he was there to oppose the measure because its passage would materially hurt all local companies. He said also that the local companies were weaker and could not stand what the old line companies could.

He presented some figures to show that the state of Georgia should do all in her power to help local insurance companies. He said that the local companies only collected out of the whole south $3,000,000 annually, while the non-resident companies collected $32,000,000 from Georgia alone.

Thomas Egleston, of the Hartford Fire Insurance Company, said that the law would paralyze the country insurance of the state.

Mr. Davis, of Albany, made a strong presentation of arguments against the measure.

Mr. Davis, representative of the Southern Mutual of Athens, made a strong speech against the bill. He said his was a mutual company and the rate was regulated by the risk and the profits went to the policyholders. The law, he said, would make more claims and more losses. His company, he said, had had no case in court for ten years.

Would Increase Rates.

John D. Little spoke eloquently and effectively against the bill. The bill, he said, was intended to make the insurance companies pay claims on their face evidently fraudulent. The situation, he declared, did not necessitate or justify the legislation. The increase on the rate which the law would make necessary would add, he said, more than a million dollars to the insurance taxation of the people of the state.

The present rate was shown to be only 1.42, which was less than the average for the whole country, that being 1.45 per cent.

The measure was finally referred to a sub-committee of the general judiciary committee, composed of Messrs. Persons, Lawrence and Saffold.

Dividend Is Declared.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 19.—The directors of the American Ship Building Company today declared a dividend of 4 per cent on the common stock, payable quarterly, out of the net earnings of the last fiscal year, which ended June 30 last. The first dividend will fall due September 1.

CHANGED HUSBAND.

Wife Made Wise Change in Food

Change of diet is the only way to really cure stomach and bowel trouble.

A woman says:

"My husband had dyspepsia when we were married and had suffered from it for several years. It was almost impossible to find anything he could eat without bad results.

"I thought this was largely due to the use of coffee and persuaded him to discontinue it. He did so, and began to drink Postum Food Coffee. The change did him good from the beginning; his digestion improved; he suffered much less from his nervousness, and when he added Grape-Nuts food to his diet he was soon entirely cured.

"My friend, Mrs. ——, of Vicksburg (my former home), had become a nervous wreck also from dyspepsia. Medicines had no effect; neither did travel help her. On my last visit home, some months ago, I persuaded her to use Grape-Nuts food. She was in despair, and consented. She stuck to it until it restored her health so completely that she is now the most enthusiastic friend of Grape-Nuts that I ever knew. She eats it with cream or dry, just as it comes from the package—keeps it in her room and eats it whenever she feels like it.

"I began eating Grape-Nuts food, myself, when my baby was 2 months old, and I don't know what I should have done without it. My appetite was gone. I was weak and nervous and afforded but very little nourishment for the child. The Grape-Nuts food, of which I soon grew very fond, speedily set all this right again, and the baby grew healthful, rosy and beautiful as a mother could wish. He is 2 years old now, and eats Grape-Nuts food himself. I wish every tired young mother knew of the good that Grape-Nuts would do her."

CHILDREN POOR, BUT VERY HAPPY, ENJOY OUTING AT GRANT PARK

Scene at Grant Park Yesterday When the Poor Children of Atlanta Were Enjoying the Outing of the Salvation Army.

It was a big party of happy children, the 300 little tots who enjoyed the free picnic given yesterday at Grant park by the Salvation Army. Promptly at 9 o'clock three trolley cars stopped in front of the Army headquarters, and took on board the big party of children, together with many mothers.

The outing for the poor children of Atlanta, given yesterday, was a decided success. With each recurring summer these outings are held, generally during the month of July, and for weeks and months before the happy day the event is looked forward to with joyful anticipation by the little poor children of the city. And the mothers, too, are glad of the opportunity to find rest in the open air, far from the heat and work of the city.

Those persons who noticed the cars carrying the picnickers out to the park yesterday morning must have thought that the Salvation Army was doing a good work in Atlanta. It was pleasant to see those hundreds of half-clothed, hungry-looking children, with their faces lighted up with the pleasure of the joyful occasion. And the dinner—was there ever such a dinner before? Under the big trees at the park it was spread about noon, and the little tots, some of them at least, probably never saw half as much to eat in all their lives. Thanks to charity and labor of Captain Ross Boucher, there was everything to eat that could tempt the appetite of a hungry child. They ate. They did more than eat. They devoured the good things in a manner that would have been inexcusable, were not the fact taken into consideration that they were very hungry poor children, who were too hungry and poor to obey exactly the rules of etiquette.

After dinner the children played under the trees, visited the animals, took in everything, and were tired out when the time came to board the cars back to the city.

Altogether, it will be a day long remembered by the tots who benefited by it. One of the officers of the Army said:

"I wish we could have these outings once a month during the summer. Of course with our lack of money we could not do that now. They have these monthly outings in New York city and other large places. I long for the time when we can have them in Atlanta."

Most of the credit for the big outing yesterday is due Captain Ross Boucher and his wife. They have worked with untiring zeal for many weeks past for the event, and because the day was a success they feel that their efforts were not in vain.

WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY ON FLOATING POOL ROOM

Chicago, July 19.—Indirectly protected by a federal court injunction, Chicago's floating pool room, the City of Traverse, will go into commission again tomorrow and receive racing news from the wireless telegraph company, as was the practice before the Chicago police raided the offices of the telegraph company some time ago. After hearing the arguments in the case today, Judge Bethea, in the United States circuit court, issued an injunction restraining Mayor Dunne, Chief of Police O'Neill and their officers and agents from interfering with the business of the wireless telegraph company in any way. Counsel for the wireless telegraph company raised the point that the city did not have the power to interfere with interstate commerce in the form of messages sent from state to state by means of telegraph, and he was upheld by the court.

By issuing the injunction Judge Bethea declared that, although he does not believe in gambling in any form, under the law he had no other course than to issue the restraining order.

FINAL MATCHES PLAYED TODAY

Thornton and Scott Will Meet Today for the Singles.

The finals in both singles and doubles will be played in the Atlanta Athletic Club tennis tournament at the courts of the club, near Ponce de Leon, this afternoon.

Nat Thornton will play L. D. Scott for the honor of meeting Sam Williams in the challenge round for the championship of the club, while the opponents in doubles have not yet been determined owing to an unfinished match.

Byrd and Tichenor were playing Smith and Howell yesterday afternoon in the semi-finals in doubles when it became so dark that further play was impossible.

The match developed the one big surprise of the tournament, for the tennis experts of the club had picked the Smith-Howell combination a winner. Byrd and Tichenor were in great form, however, and proceeded to give form experts a jolly by winning the first set, 6-4, and tying up the second set, 6 to 6. At this point the match was stopped because it was too dark to continue play. The match will be resumed this afternoon. Newell and Newell defaulted to Scott and Williams in the daubles, leaving Scott and Williams to meet the winner of the Smith-Howell and Byrd-Tichenor match.

Thornton beat Howell 6-4; 3-6; 6-0; Scott finished his match with Smith, winning 7-5; 3-6; 6-1, and Scott beat Grant, 6-2;6-2.

This afternoon Scott and Thornton meet in the finalsin singles at 3 o'clock; Tichenor and Byrd will finish their match with Smith and Howell at 4 o'clock, and at 5 o'clock the winner of the above match wil play Scott and Williams in the finals.

OATH OF OFFICE TAKEN BY ROOT

He is Now at the Head of the State Department.

Washington, July 19.—Elihu Root, of New York, was sworn in as secretary of state today.

The oath was administered by William McNeir, assistant librarian of the state department. Secretary Root announced that he would remain here during the day, as he desired to look up some legal matters connected with the state department. He expects to return to New York tomorrow.

The ceremony, which was very simple, took place in the office of Assistant Secretary Loomis, the office of the secretary still bearing the emblems of mourning for the late Secretary Hay. Solicitor Penfield, of the state department, Senator Dick, of Ohio, and a number of personal friends of Mr. Root were present. Immediately after the taking of the oath the secretary plunged into business, although he did not take up any of the pending affairs in the department. The secretary will go from New York to Oyster Bay, where he will call upon the president.

COTTON BUREAU TO BE CLEANSED

President Roosevelt is Bent on Reorganization.

Assistant Secretary Hayes in Charge. It Is Believed That a New Force Will Be Put in Charge of the Statistics.

Washington, July 19.—Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Wilton Hayes has taken hold of the affairs of the bureau of statistics, with instructions from Secretary Wilson, approved by President Roosevelt, to cleanse the bureau of the stigma left by the cotton leak scandal. His authority is unlimited. He has been told that he may have whatever clerical force he needs and if there are any employees whose services he thinks should be dispensed with they will be discharged.

It is regarded as extremely likely there will be a complete reorganization of the force employed in the statistical department as well as a thorough revision of the orders governing the monthly crop reports, the latter having already been outlined in a circular issued by Secretary Wilson. In that regard Secretary Wilson said today that hereafter that if there are any accusations against the integrity of the bureau it must be directed against himself or Assistant Secretary Hayes, as he has no intention of allowing other persons access to information which can be used in stock jobbing. Mr. Hayes subsequently will be in charge of the bureau until after congress assembles, as it is believed that a competent man to take the place of Mr. Hyde, who resigned yesterday as chief statistician, cannot be had for the salary paid by the government—$3,500 a year. Congress will be asked to increase the salary and it is the intention of Secretary Wilson to place in charge of the office not only a man whose ability has been established, but one who has had no connection with the statistical bureau's attachment to stock brokerage offices. Whoever is appointed will first be approved by the president.

A rumor has been circulated that when congress assembles a movement will be started to have the crop gathering bureau transferred to the department of commerce and labor in order to insure a more complete reorganization. Senator Dolliver, of Iowa, a warm personal friend of Secretary Wilson, is slated for the chairmanship of the senate committee on agriculture. He has made a study of the methods of crop reporting and it is known that he is opposed unalterably to any change of the character suggested.

Harvest Destroyed by Hurricane.

Madrid, July 19.—A hurricane has almost entirely destroyed the harvest in the provinces of Saragossa and Caceres, thus adding immensely to the great distress. It has been decided to entirely suspend all work tomorrow as a protest against the dearness of provisions here.

"The results obtained from the Seamless Warm Air Furnace which you installed in my house last fall has been perfectly satisfactory in every respect. I had no difficulty in keeping the temperature 70 degrees during the coldest weather, consuming during the entire winter about 10 tons of run of mine coal, price $3.25 per ton, delivered. We were not troubled with disagreeable gases, smoke and dust coming through the registers, as is usually the case when other makes of furnace are used. I consider it the best on the market."

OPENED FIRM AT A SHARP ADVANCE

Better Prices Were Due to Firmer Cables.

Owing, It Was Said, to American and Egyptian Buying—Decline Followed, Again Recovered, Close Being 21 to 27 Points Up.

New York, July 19.—The cotton market opened firm at an advance of 7 to 17 points in response to firmer cables which, due to come 5 to 7 points lower, were 1 to 2 higher at the hour of the local opening, owing, it was said, to American and Egyptian buying orders in a narrow market. There was heavy selling here at the opening, chiefly through wire and commission houses with southern connections, and shortly after the opening prices reacted to within 3 to 5 points of last night's finals. This was followed, however, by a strong advance on renewed bull support and a withdrawal of offerings following reports of rains in the central valley, and the market during the balance of the session ruled very nervous but generally firm, the feature being the increased opposition met by prices as they approached or sold a little over 11c for October. The market was finally steady within 3 to 4 points of the best at a net advance of 21@27 points.

New Orleans Cotton Market.

New Orleans, July 19.—Spot cotton in good demand; offerings very light; sales 2,050 bales, including 1,500 to arrive. Delivered on contracts 100. Quotations up 1/8.

Futures, responding to the improvement in New York and influenced by the weather conditions and a better Liverpool than expected, opened 12 to 15 points up. Spinners were anxious buyers in Liverpool, while the bidding here for July and near months greatly exceeded the offerings. The market was fairly active throughout the session and the trend of prices distinctly upward. July opened at 10.79 bid, sold up to 10.93, and finally eased off to 10.89. October opened at 10.82 bid, receded to 10.75, advanced to 10.99 and finally eased off to 170.97. The market closed steady, July showing a net gain of 22 points, while the other positions gained 26 to 28 points.

The Dry Goods Market.

New York, July 19.—The severe weather has been felt in the dry goods market and a dragging market has resulted. Buyers, however, are disinclined to act with freedom as long as the present attitude of sellers exists.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

COTTON—The bull element for the time has matters its own way, and very moderate arguments are enlarged upon by the "crop killers," as they are called, who see nothing but disaster in every rainfall, and danger in every threatened drougth from a few days of sunshine. Trading is elmost wholly local; the trade has withdrawn from the market and prices are at the mercy of momentary caprcie. It is evident, however, that at 11c and above an ample quantity of cotton comes upon the market to check further advance, and it is probable that the elaborate bidding is for the purpose of making a market upon which to sell. That, at least, appears to be the indication. The weather is seasonable in the south with the crop doing well. The spot market was quiet at 10 points advance.

Ware & Leland.

COTTON—The market turned or rather was turned up again today by the same interests that have been active for some time. The advance took place about as easily as the decline of yesterday. There is a lot of cotton being taken around 11c, and it is hard to tell whether the buyers will be able to carry on the rise or not. We do not see anything in the way to prevent such an advance, as no one is willing to offer much opposition. That is, a man here and there will sell short at an advance and put a stop on so that his loss is limited, but as for real short selling and substantial opposition to the bull party, there is none, or next to none. The crop is not doing well enough to make bears out of traders. But this does not mean that there is in sight a crop failure that assures 11c next fall. Reports are conflicting, and the crop had a poor start. With anything like decent rains in August and September, the one thing that will kill a crop—a drought—will be out of the question. The market was bought up, but was not broad, as was the case on the last advance to 11c. This is a very critical point. The larger interests are getting the cotton, and in the evetn of a setback now, it will be in spite of the buying and not with the help of the larger operators. We do not feel like buying cotton at this level. If the market gets as high as 11.35 it will go higher.

WHEAT—There was a little selling early on the weak cables and good weather, but offerings were absorbed by commission houses, the northwest also buying to an extent that started shorts to covering, while Minneapolis was alarmed somewhat over the crop situation, although reports were conflicting to quite a degree. The market was not weak at any time. It looked very much as if the movement in the southwest would fall down, but the northwest news was the most influential in the way of elevating prices. Minneapolis wired us before the close: "Sample of wheat stalks coming in now certainly have an alarming appearance of black rust; spores very evident." It is this sort of news that will alarm the trade, and as it is being suppressed to some extent, there are fears that when it receives more publicity, a lively whirl upward will follow. Prices are not high and advances from present levels could be easily worked.

CORN—The market was rather strong on reports of foreign buying late yesterday, while the strength of wheat and oats was a bull help. There was some selling of September by Armour, although operations in that month were not large, considerable activity developing, however, in December and May, the latter being bought by the southwest, as well as by the Patten crowd. Sentiment is inclined to be bullish.

OATS—Heavy rains reported throughout Iowa, and in some places the crop was flattened out, and claims were made that threshing results will be disappointing. There was a little selling early, but commission house buying orders were very plentiful; in fact, the buying was of a good character, despite reports of large acceptances. It looks as if a good sized short interest had been created, and we think the market is in that condition now here it can advance very easily. We would favor purchases on all dips.

PROVISIONS—Packers were sellers of ribs and lard on the advances, the short interest not displaying any anxiety, and in view of the large stocks here, we would favor sales.

STOCKS—Owing to the failure of a rather prominent London house, the continental market was irregular. The opening here was very quiet, and prices changes significant. Some selling appeared in Copper, and this stock lost a point. Just before 11 o'clock, a rather sensational advance took place in Northern Pacific. It is said that the orders were given by John W. Gates, who is at present in Montreal. In the early afternoon the Illinois Central stock advanced more than a point, but when it was announced that the dividend had not been increased, the stock reacted sharply and the rest of the list sold off sympathetically. It is generally eexpected at the directors meeting of the Union Pacific tomorrow the rate will be raised to 5 per cent. If a higher rate than this is declared, it is thought the stock will have a rather sensational advance.

Southern Exchange.

COTTON—Unexpectedly strong cables from Liverpool and some buying orders from the south gave our market a stronger tone in the morning, prices advancing to nearly our recent high level before the second hour of the afternoon. The crop and weather reports from the south continue mixed, but unfavorable. Heavy rainfall is reported today again over Louisiana and other parts of the Mississippi valley and Texas. These conditions, however, are not extended over a large part of belt, and the forecast continues to indicate fair weather, except thunderstorms and showers. We believe that so long as the actual spot cotton can be controlled the present level of option list can be retained, and, perhaps, an advance of some importance may be recorded against the short interest, should crop reports continue unfavorable. In this connection, the speculative interest appears sufficiently strong to offset the influences of any moderate decline in the spot division.

WHEAT RALLIED SHARPLY LATE

The Close Was Strong, Over a Cent Higher.

Opened Lower, but Quickly Rallied. An Advance in Minneapolis of Cash Wheat Was the Main Factor — Corn Closed Steady 1-4c Lower.

Chicago, July 19.—Crop damage reports from the northwest caused a sharp rally in wheat prices here today. The September option closed with a net gain of 1 1-2c. Corn is off 1-8c. Oats are up 1-2c. Provisions were practically unchanged.

Strength in the wheat market developed soon after the opening. At the start the market was rather weak, September being off 1-4@3-8c at 82 5-8@83c. Prices at Liverpool showed losses. The most important factor, however, in the initial weakness here was that the weather throughout the United States continued extremely favorable for the new crop. Nevertheless sentiment in the wheat pit soon became bullish. The chief causes for the change in feeling were numerous reports from Minneapolis telling of the condition of the spring sown crop in the Dakotas and Minnesota. As the advices were conflicting the majority seemed favorable to the bulls. As a result prices made a quick upturn, shorts buying freely on the possibility of damage to the spring crop. The fact that receipts today in St. Louis were smaller than the previous two days helped to increase bullish sentiment. Another indication that a heavy movement of new wheat in the southwest was on the wane was the almost unanimous refusal of bids sent out by cash houses at St. Louis, acceptance at that point today being reported as the lightest for the new crop. Late in the session the market here became extremely strong on active general demand induced mainly by 3c advance for September at Minneapolis. The September option sold up to 84 7-8c. The close was strong with prices at almost the highest point of the day. September closed at 84 3-4. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 81,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 757,000 bushels, compared with 370,900 a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 192 cars, against 137 last week and 311 a year ago.

A steady tone prevailed in the corn market throughout the entire session. The volume of trading was small, largely as the result of light offerings. Shorts were the principal buyers, cash houses being the chief sellers. The advance in wheat had a strengthening influence, offsetting the effect of ideal weather for crops. The market closed steady. September opened 1-8c lower at 54 7-8c, sold up to 55 1-8@54 1-4c and closed at 54 7-8c. Receipts 185 cars, with 31 contract.

Oats were strong on general buying brought out partly by the bulge in wheat. Another influence that tended to strengthen the market was wet weather in Iowa. September opened unchanged to a shade lower at 28 7-8@29c to 29c, advanced to 29 3-4c and closed at 29 1-2c. Receipts 84 cars.

Provisions were steady, influened mainly by the strength in wheat and higher hogs. September pork closed unchanged at $12.95, larg 2 1-2c higher at $7.25@7.27 1-2 and ribs a shade higher at $7.92 1-2@7.95.

Estimated receipts tomorrow Wheat 91 cars; corn 251 cars; oats 98 cars; hogs 24,000 head.

COTTON

The cotton market is now in a very interesting position. Prices have been advanced from 7 cents to 11 cents on reports of a bullish nature, indicating a poor crop for the coming season. The bull forces are headed by some of the largest operators on the exchange, who claim that they will carry prices to 14 cents by the last of August.

Whether this be true or not, certain it is that weather conditions have and are offering them many opportunities for carrying out their threats.

You should take advantage of the opportunities offered and send us your orders.

Our service is superb and recommendations unsurpassed,

One of the happiest excursion parties in Atlanta's history left for Virginia and a number of the battlefields in the north yesterday afternoon over the Southern railway at 1:15 o'clock. The party was composed of the members of the Seventh Georgia volunteers, one of hte regiments which so bravely bore the brunt of many of the greatest battles in the war between the states.

Many of the old battle fields will be visited, including Manassas, the famous grounds about Richmond, Fredericksburg and other places where members of the Seventh Georgia played such an important part in the days of the confederacy.

With the old soldiers went the old regimental flag with the members of the color guard as pardonable proud as possible.

There was rather a hot sun sreaming down, but none of the party seemed to mind it in the least, and every one apparent to be happy beyond the influence of the weather or anything else.

This is not the first excursion of the Seventh Georgia, but the chances are that it will be the best in other ways than numerically, 149 members breaking all records. The members of the party leaving yesterday were as follows:

J. W. Almand, J. W. Cowan, W. J. McDaniel, Frank McDaniel, Miss W. F. McDaniel, Miss Jessie Bond, Miss Clyde McDaniel, J. P. McDaniel, J. J. Stancel, W. F. Alexander, O. S. Haygood, W. B. Parker, C. DRIFT AT OPENING NOT PERCEPTIBLE

Changes Were Confined to Very Small Fractions.

General List Was Shaded in Afternoon in Sympathy with Disappointment as to Illinois Central Dividend, Closing Dull and Easy.

New York, July 19.—The professions' limits of the operations in stocks were strictly maintained today, but within those limits speculation was allowed rather more scope and the traders enlarged their operations to some extent inducing some more striking price movements than yesterday. The increased breadth of the market was owing almost wholly to the revived effect of rumors regarding Northern Securities affairs. The fixed belief that the dividend on Union Pacific is to be increased to a 5 per cent rate at tomorrow's meeting of directors has apparently lost its efficiency, and then it was reported that there was to be a sale of Union Picific's Northern Securities assets. The movement of prices today was pointed to as indicating advantageous terms of all concerned. The action of Illinois Central was not encouraging to those who are hoping for rising prices to follow news of increased dividends. The recent more active movement in money was perceptibly relaxed and the proceeds in loan bills in the market increased the supply of money so that the tone for the money became easy. Rates for call loans were also inclined to yield. The few striking gains in prices were poorly held and the market closed easy with a ragged showing of mixed gains and losses.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $2,320,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Money on call easier at 1 3-4@2 per cent, closing bid at 1 3-4; offered at 2; time loans easy; 60 and 90 days 3@3 1-4; six months 4 per cent; prime mercantile ppaer 4@4 1-4 per cent.

Coffee and Sugar.

New York, July 19.—The coffee market opened irregular at a decline of 5@15 points in response to lower European cables and continued reports of easier primary markets owing to the outlook for larger receipts. There was not a great deal for sale apparently, but the demand was too light to cause any improvement until the late trading, when there was covering by scalping shorts and some fresh buying for long account; closed steady net unchanged to 5 points higher; sales 47,500 bags; September 6.60@6.75; October 6.70; December 6.90@7.05; January 7.00; March 7.10. PROVED TO BE A FALSE ALARM

Military Found Everything Quiet at Linden.

Selma, Ala., July 18.—(Special).—The Dallas Dragoons, cavalry company, returned this morning from Linden, Marengo county, where they were ordered last night by the governor. It seems that Mr. Taylor, a citizen of Linden, had yesterday telegraphed Governor Jelks at Blount Springs, that a mob had been formed in Demopolis and were on their way to Linden to mob a negro, Robert Richardson, who was confined in the jail at that place and had been sentenced to be hung for the murder of Dr. Fosque, a prominent citizen of Demopolis.

When the military reached the scene they found that the negro had been taken from the jail and sent to Selma, over the Southern road, a different route taken by the militia.

The reported mob did not show up and the town was as quiet as a graveyard when the train pulled in.
